Lions Lose to Worthington; Eliminated from Tournament

"WHERE TO NOW?" Wonders Tom Swaim (No. 30) as the opposition pours down on him all around. Tom, and the rest of the Washington C. H. team, couldn't find the right answer to that question at Capital University Friday night and bowed out of the Class AA tournament, losing to Worthington, 74-55. Other Blue Lions identified in the picture are Dick English (No. 24), Jim McWilliams (in front of English) and Ron Knisley (observed by Worthington No. 17). (Record-Herald photo)

Basketball faded out of the sports picture in Washington C. H. for another nine months Saturday night when the Lions of WHS were trounced by Worthington 74-55, on the Capital University floor in Columbus.

The defeat eliminated Washington C. H. from the central district tournament and virtually closed the basketball season for the Lions, who finished with a record of 11 wins and 9 defeats.

About all that is left of the winter sport here now is practice for the next three weeks. Coach Herb Russell said Monday that the squad will hold sessions in the WHS gym three nights a week until around March 22.

After that, it will be baseball for Coach Russell and many of the Lions who will change their rubber soled shoes for spikes and baseball gloves.

For three of the Lions, Saturday night's tournament game was their last in the blue and white of WHS. Graduating this year will be Dick English, a high-scoring long shot artist; Ron Knisley, a steady playmaker and reliable replacement most of the season, and John Bainter, aggressive speedster whose chief assignment was to harass the opposition. All three saw action Saturday night as Coach Russell cleared the bench for the final game to give the whole squad a chance at tournament play.

THE LIONS were eliminated from the tourney principally because they could not hit the basket in the first half. They took 32 shots from the field but connected with only three.

Meanwhile, the Worthington boys were hitting from all angles to account for 12 field goals in 18 shots. At the end of the first period, the Lions were hopelessly behind, 23-6, and were trailing by a discouraging 38-13 at the intermission.

The second half was different—but the Lions were so far behind they could not catch up. They had the satisfaction, however, to outscoring Worthington by 6 points, 42 to 36.

Tom Swaim, who led the WHS attack with 24 points, tallied 17 in the third period. Driving in and rebounding for shots under the basket, he was fouled repeatedly in Worthington efforts to stop him. He got only 4 field goals, but collected 16 points on free throw to give him a 24-point total.

ENGLISH, looping them from outside the Worthington 3-2 zone defense, got 7 field goals and 4 free (Please Turn to Page Twelve)

New Missile Proves Deadly

'Sidewinder' Shown At Navy Test Area

CHINA LAKE, Calif. (AP)—Guided missile Sidewinder is as deadly as its name, the Navy proved in the first public demonstration of the new weapon.

The pilot of a Demon jet fighter knocked a drone target plane out of the sky with a Sidewinder on his first shot at his naval ordnance test station.

The Sidewinder's sting was shown when the Navy took the wraps off its vast China Lake facility for nearly 200 lawmakers.

The station was established in 1943 in the southeastern California desert. It developed the Holy Moses and Tiny Tim ground-to-air rockets used in World War II.

Today, it is the Navy's major facilities for development or rockets and missiles.

The Sidewinder, a product of the scientists and military men who staff this station, is an air-to-air weapon fired by a plane to destroy another plane. It was the first guided missile conceived, developed and produced in its entirety by a government lab.

IT WAS NAMED for the lethally poisonous rattlesnake that infests this desert country.

The Atlantic, Pacific and 6th Fleets have been equipped with the Sidewinder.

The missile, Navy officials explained, greatly extends the "kill range" of a fighter or bomber.

"It's like having a six-foot reach on the other fellow in a boxing bout," the Navy said.

In its demonstrations of air fire power, the Navy established another "first" when a fighter plane fired 194 Mighty Mouse rockets in one pass. This, officers said, was the greatest number of Mighty Mouse rockets ever launched from a plane in a single salvo. The previous top was 150.

AFL Protest Fails to Halt Indiana Law

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The "right-to-work" bill that sent 10,000 AFL workers milling through Statehouse corridors here Saturday in a protest demonstration now is in the secretary of state's office and will become law without the governor's signature.

The throng of demonstrators, many equipped with placards, shouted for Gov. Harold Handley to veto the measure, which will make it illegal to require a worker to belong to a union to keep his job.

Handley, who met with nine state AFL leaders as the protest march was in progress Saturday, held to his stand that while he does not like the bill he will not veto it.

"This bill, in my opinion," said Handley, "does not accomplish the purpose for which it is intended. It is not consistent with the stand of most Hoosiers that there should be only a bare minimum of government interference in labor-management relations."

The governor said he feels the matter "is the responsibility of the Legislature."

When the bill becomes law in the fall, Indiana will be the 18th state with such an anti-union shop statute. Four other states which have had such laws have repealed them.

Grace Coolidge, 78, Seriously Ill

Patience Ended Vandals Warned

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Vandals looking for "kicks" are liable to get one "right in the seat of the pants from a shotgun" if they pick on Harold Wheeler any more.

Wheeler said he wasn't overly concerned when somebody punctured his picture window with BB shot last December.

And he said he laughed it off when somebody placed stones under the wheels of his car so he couldn't move it.

But now, Wheeler says he's going to get out his 12-gauge shotgun and "be ready" the next time.

Sunday night somebody drove a car over his lawn, knocked down two maple trees and threw a stone through his picture window.

Brennan Gets OK As New Justice

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Judiciary Committee announced today its unanimous approval of President Eisenhower's nomination of William J. Brennan Jr., New Jersey Democrat, as a justice of the Supreme Court.

Chairman Eastland (D-Miss) announced the committee also have voted at a closed meeting to conduct public hearings March 18 on the nomination of Charles Evans Whitaker of Kansas City to another seat on the court.

Brennan already is serving on the court under a recess appointment made last fall on the retirement of former Justice Sherman Minton. He has been attacked by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) but seems assured of confirmation by the full Senate.

Solon Drops Hint Of Mystery Planes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio), in a debate on President Eisenhower's Middle East resolution Sunday night indicated the United States is concerned about mysterious flights of unidentified planes over the Mideast.

Vorys defended the Eisenhower resolution in a debate with Rep. Zablocki (D-Wis) who said there is "no need" for the proposal.

Asked if there is any "imminent" danger of Communist aggression in the Middle East, Vorys replied that "there is the matter of flyovers, and, since its rather mysterious, it's a serious matter. They're high up and local people have no way of identifying them."

Senate's Rackets Query Resumes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Mundt (R-SD) says a special Senate committee investigating racketeering in labor and industry has "a dozen cases as bad as" a situation it is probing in Oregon.

Mundt is a member of the committee which heard testimony last week concerning alleged alliances between officials of the powerful Teamsters Union and underworld elements.

The hearing resumes Tuesday. Committee Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) said James P. Elkins, a Portland gambler, will be recalled then for questioning about his prior allegations that some Teamsters Union officials and racketeers tried to grab control of gambling activities and after-hours drinking clubs in Portland.

Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, said Elkins, a "friendly" witness, will testify that tribute was collected from such activities, and will tell who got that money.

KENNEDY SAID the committee will call William M. Langley, Portland district attorney now under indictment, and Clyde C. Crosby, organizer for the teamsters in Oregon, Wednesday.

He said Crosby will be questioned about his connections as a member of the Portland City Exposition Recreation Commission.

It has been charged in testimony that Crosby was allied with Portland underworld figures in efforts to influence selection of a site for an $8 million coliseum.

Mundt said the rackets investigation already has shown a need for legislation to foster better rank-and-file control of labor union funds and activities.

Brothers' Paths Cross between U. S. and Okinawa

Pfc. Russell E. Oberschlake arrived home Saturday after 15 months on Okinawa, but his brother, Joe Bob, whom he has not seen for two years, wasn't there to greet him.

Pvt. Joe Bob in on his way to Okinawa by sea. Russell came to California by air and their paths probably crossed somewhere in the Pacific.

The brothers, both of whom are Marines, are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Oberschlake, Bogus Rd.

Pfc. Russell Oberschlake, a 1954 graduate of Washington High School, is on 45-day leave and will return to Camp LeJeune, N. C., at its termination.

Brother Joe Bob left San Diego Feb. 29. They probably won't meet for another 15 months at the least.

Brother's Cars Collide; 1 Dies

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Specialist 2c Glenn C. Brown, 23, was injured fatally in a auto collision with his brother Sunday.

Brown, a soldier on a leave from Texas, was thrown from his car in the collision with an auto driven by Jerry Brown, 21, on a Fort Smith street. Officers said the cars were traveling in the same direction.

Jerry Brown, uninjured, was held for questioning.

Israel Puts OK On Troop Removal

JERUSALEM (AP)—Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion gave the final orders today directing with drawal of Israeli troops from Egypt. The decision brought bitter demonstrations in Jerusalem.

Hundreds of demonstrators marched through the streets demanding that the Ben-Gurion government resign. "Stop the withdrawal," the crowd shouted.

Police squads clashed with the demonstrators and made several arrests.

The demonstrations broke out as Maj. Gen. Moshe Dayan, Israeli chief of staff met Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, commander of the United Nations Emergency force, to work out details of the U. N. takeover in the Gaza Strip and along the Gulf of Aqaba.

The announcement was made in advance of an appearance by Ben-Gurion before the Israeli Knesset (parliament) at which the grizzled old premier was slated to reaffirm Israel's decision to pull out of the disputed areas, trusting to the United States and the United Nations for protection against a renewal of Egyptian shooting.

MRS. GOLDA MEIR, the foreign minister and a former Milwaukee teacher, had announced to the U. N. Assembly Friday that the Israeli troops would retire behind the 1949 armistice lines. But opposition to the decision in Israel resulted in instructions from Ben-Gurion to Ambassador Abba Eban to seek "clarifications" of the assurances given by the U. S.

After a weekend of Cabinet meetings and conferences, informed sources said the premier had finally gotten his divided government's permission to pull the troops back.

The dramatic announcement was made as Ben-Gurion was engaged in non-stop conferences with leaders of political parties, including the leaders of the two parties in his coalition which threatened to quit over the withdrawal issue.

Ben-Gurion ordered the withdrawal to proceed even before he reported to the Knesset or held a "final" meeting with his Cabinet.

The official spokesman said the reason for the go-ahead was that "latest clarifications" of the American position had been received from the United States and that Ben-Gurion had been in talks with most Cabinet members.

New Lex Robbery Laid to 3 Men

NEW LEXINGTON (AP)—Perry County authorities are questioning three men believed involved in an $11,064 supermarket robbery here. The three, John Rosebrough, 24, Denna Wayne Moore, 23, and Tommy Shope, 23, all of New Lexington, were arrested Saturday night. Their car contained a cache of $11,064.

Police arrested the three men after spotting their car on U. S. 22, south of Zanesville.

Warren Donnelly, 63, manager of the supermarket, and Keith Reeves, 26, a store employee, identified the three as the men who robbed them.

Farmer Is Named As Fire Marshal

COLUMBUS (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill today appointed Emmett P. Brush Jr., 40, farmer of Lima, as state fire marshal and chief Elmer G. Stough of Lorain as first assistant.

Brush succeeds Charles R. Scott, an appointee of former Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche. Brush, a Republican, will receive a salary of $500 a month.

After service in World War II, Brush operated a farm management and land appraisal service. He currently has been engaged in sales promotion work.

Weekend Mishaps Kills 14 in Ohio

COLUMBUS (AP)—Fourteen persons died accidentally in Ohio over the weekend, 11 of them in traffic mishaps.

Non-traffic deaths included one in a fire, one from a fall and a third when a child choked on a toy balloon.

Ben-Gurion will report to the Knesset Tuesday.

Ben Gurion's withdrawal order taken over the head of the Knesset, was unusual, if not unprecedented. Never in the nine-year history of Israel has a premier taken a major step such as this without going before parliament.

The initial assumption by foreign observers here was that Ben-Gurion acted under American pressure. He also was known to feel unwilling to reverse the decision to withdraw announced to the world by Israel last Friday.

Body of Tot Discovered in Vacant House

MARY JANE BARKER

BELLMAWR, N. J. (AP)—The search for tiny Mary Jane Barker ended in a closet of a vacant house Sunday where a playmate found the huddled body of the pretty, blonde child.

Six-year-old Maria Fietta, visiting the newly built house, playfully threw open a closet door. Her puppy, which had disappeared along with Mary Jane last Monday, bounded out, alive and frisky. On the floor lay 4-year-old Mary Jane, her blonde tresses covered by the hood of her jacket.

A medical authority connected with the investigation who declined to be identified said in his opinion the child probably died of fright and starvation after being trapped in the cold darkness with the black spaniel puppy. A preliminary autopsy indicated Mary Jane had eaten nothing since she drank a glass of chocolate milk (Please Turn to Page Twelve)

Arabs Still Alert To Israeli Stall

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Arab delegations to the U. N. were expected to press their resolution demanding sanctions against Israel "if no signs of complete withdrawal appear."

A U. S. delegation source said there was "still a possibility" that the United States would introduce a substitute resolution it began drawing up a week ago but shelved when Israel's announcement as arranged.

"The American source said this would have embodied sanctions provisions "quite different" from those in the Asian-African proposal and presumably less harsh or less immediate.

The American resolution would call on all U. N. members to stop military, financial and economic aid to Israel until she pulls back her troops.

The American resolution as tentatively drawn was understood to have proposed putting the Gaza Strip under temporary U. N. administration and declared the Guit of Aqaba open to all ships.

U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Friday endorsed freedom of navigation in the Gulf, which leads from the Red Sea to the Israeli port of Eilat. He approved putting UNEF into the Gaza Strip but said the area's future must be worked out within the framework of the 1949 Egypt-Israel armistice.

Lodge's statement on Gaza displeased the Israeli delegation because that agreement gave provisional control of the strip, a part of old Palestine, to Egypt.

Is Ike Leaning Toward Passive Role?

WASHINGTON (AP)—In his second term, is President Eisenhower tending toward a more passive role in direction of the government?

You can get a spirited argument on any "yes" or "no" answer to that question, or to these others: Is he now delegating more top policy authority to others? Does he look forward even more than during his first four years in office to trips away from Washington for a mixture of relaxation and work?

Some of the talk has been keyed to the Middle East crisis. His request for authority to use American forces in that region, if necessary, and for permission to spend $200 million there in foreign aid was having rough going in the Senate when, early in February, the White House announced Eisenhower would leave Feb. 8 on his annual trip to south Georgia for quail hunting and golf as the guest of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey.

At the same time, Israel was still defying United Nations demands that it pull its invading troops out of Egyptian territory.

He did cut three days from the two-week stay he had hoped for and returned to Washington Feb. 19 for conferences with Secretary of State Dulles and congressional leaders of both parties.

Just before going to Georgia, he had talked personally and at length with Saudi Arabia's King Saud, as he had earlier with India's Nehru and has since with France's Premier Guy Mollet.

At the Humphrey plantation, he conferred by telephone at least once daily with Dulles, who was in Washington, regarding the Middle East. Some days they talked three times.

Eisenhower also transacted other government business there, just as he does from all other places when he is away from Washington.

But that is where the argument arises. There are some who contend Eisenhower's role in the Middle East crisis was a relatively passive one during his stay in Georgia. Others argue that except for face-to-face contacts Eisenhower can and does keep in just as close contact with developments while he is in the White House.

At a news conference shortly before going to Georgia in February, Eisenhower said he always insists on such trips every once in a while to help keep physically fit.

Last week he directed his disarmament aide, Harold E. Stassen, to report no longer to him but to Dulles in the State Department. That was interpreted in some quarters as a major delegation of presidential authority and a more passive role for Eisenhower henceforth in a very important field.

The counter-argument is that it simply was a victory for Dulles, who reportedly did not like the idea of a diplomatic function such as disarmament negotiations being carried on pretty much independently of the State Department.

And those on that side of the argument note that Eisenhower has said publicly several times that Dulles never makes a top policy decision without determining first that Eisenhower agrees.

Hundreds of demonstrators marched through the streets demanding that the Ben-Gurion government resign. "Stop the withdrawal," the crowd shouted.

Police squads clashed with the demonstrators and made several arrests.

The demonstrations broke out as Maj. Gen. Moshe Dayan, Israeli chief of staff met Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, commander of the United Nations Emergency force, to work out details of the U. N. takeover in the Gaza Strip and along the Gulf of Aqaba.

The announcement was made in advance of an appearance by Ben-Gurion before the Israeli Knesset (parliament) at which the grizzled old premier was slated to reaffirm Israel's decision to pull out of the disputed areas, trusting to the United States and the United Nations for protection against a renewal of Egyptian shooting.

MRS. GOLDA MEIR, the foreign minister and a former Milwaukee teacher, had announced to the U. N. Assembly Friday that the Israeli troops would retire behind the 1949 armistice lines. But opposition to the decision in Israel resulted in instructions from Ben-Gurion to Ambassador Abba Eban to seek "clarifications" of the assurances given by the U. S.

After a weekend of Cabinet meetings and conferences, informed sources said the premier had finally gotten his divided government's permission to pull the troops back.

The dramatic announcement was made as Ben-Gurion was engaged in non-stop conferences with leaders of political parties, including the leaders of the two parties in his coalition which threatened to quit over the withdrawal issue.

Ben-Gurion ordered the withdrawal to proceed even before he reported to the Knesset or held a "final" meeting with his Cabinet.

The official spokesman said the reason for the go-ahead was that "latest clarifications" of the American position had been received from the United States and that Ben-Gurion had been in talks with most Cabinet members.

Decision Made Before Deadline

SCO To Be Enlarged To Eight Schools

Washington C. H. High School is going to remain in the old South Central Ohio (SCO) Athletic League.

This was virtually assured today following action by the school's Athletic Board as outlined in a letter sent Saturday to T. V. Bancroft, principal of Westerville High School and secretary of the Mid-Six League.

Washington C. H. High School had taken all but the final step to join the Mid-Six, which was being expanded into an eight-team circuit, when the other four members of the SCO began to get results from their stepped-up efforts to enlarge their league.

The WHS Athletic Board's letter to the Mid-Six secretary summed up the reasons for staying in the SCO, rather than joining the Mid-Six. It said in part:

"It appears that the SCO will soon become an eight-team league and because our football program would not be able to operate within the final arrangements provided in the Mid-Six we will remain with the SCO League."

The deadline for accepting the invitation to join the Mid-Six was March 12.

The letter also expressed appreciation of the consideration given Washington C. H. High School for membership in the Mid-Six.

JOHN TRACE, principal of the WHS and secretary of the SCO explained that the SCO has now been enlarged to seven teams and that it was expected the eighth would be added within the next two years.

As it now stands the SCO will start the 1958 football season with Hillsboro, Wilmington, Circleville, Greenfield and Washington C. H. (present members) and Franklin Heights and a new unnamed high school now under construction southwest of Columbus. Franklin Heights High School, now in its second year, is west of Columbus and north of the CCC Highway.

Trace did not mention any possibilities for the eighth school, but indicated it might be another new school in one of the suburbs of rapidly growing Columbus. There has been some talk of Grove City joining the SCO, but there has been nothing from the school itself to indicate this was being considered there.

Although efforts have been made for several years to expand the SCO, they got nowhere until after Washington C. H. athletic officials had taken steps to join the budding Mid-Six.

BELLMAN, N. J. (AP)—The search for tiny Mary Jane Barker ended in a closet of a vacant house Sunday where a playmate found the huddled body of the pretty, blonde child.

Six-year-old Maria Friaeta, visiting the newly built house, playfully threw open a closet door. Her puppy, which had disappeared along with Mary Jane last Monday, bounded out, alive and frisky. On the floor lay 4-year-old Mary Jane, her blonde tresses covered by the hood of her jacket.

A medical authority connected with the investigation who declined to be identified said in his opinion the child probably died of fright and starvation after being trapped in the cold darkness with the black spaniel puppy. A preliminary autopsy indicated Mary Jane had eaten nothing since she drank a glass of chocolate milk.

Arabs Still Alert To Israeli Stall

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Arab delegations to the U. N. were expected to press their resolution demanding sanctions against Israel "if no signs of complete withdrawal appear."

A U. S. delegation source said there was "still a possibility" that the United States would introduce a substitute resolution to begin drawing up a week ago but shelved when Israel's announcement as arranged.

"The American source said this would have embodied sanctions provisions "quite different" from those in the Asian-African proposal and presumably less harsh or less immediate.

The Asian-African resolution would call on all U. N. members to stop military, financial and economic aid to Israel until she pulls back her troops.

The American resolution as tentatively drawn was understood to have proposed putting the Gaza Strip under temporary U. N. administration and declared the Gulf of Aqaba open to all ships.

U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Friday endorsed freedom of navigation in the Gulf, which leads from the Red Sea to the Israeli port of Eilat. He approved putting UNEF into the Gaza Strip but said the area's future must be worked out within the framework of the 1949 Egypt-Israel armistice.

Lodge's statement on Gaza displeased the Israeli delegation because that agreement gave provisional control of the strip, a part of old Palestine, to Egypt.

Is Ike Leaning Toward Passive Role?

WASHINGTON (AP)—In his second term, is President Eisenhower tending toward a more passive role in direction of the government?

You can get a spirited argument on any "yes" or "no" answer to that question, or to these others: Is he now delegating more top policy authority to others? Does he look forward even more than during his first four years in office to trips away from Washington for a mixture of relaxation and work?

Some of the talk has been keyed to the Middle East crisis. His request for authority to use American forces in that region, if necessary, and for permission to spend $200 million there in foreign aid was having rough going in the Senate when, early in February, the White House announced Eisenhower would leave Feb. 8 on his annual trip to south Georgia for quail hunting and golf as the guest of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey.

At the same time, Israel was still defying United Nations demands that it pull its invading troops out of Egyptian territory.

He did cut three days from the two-week stay he had hoped for and returned to Washington Feb. 19 for conferences with Secretary of State Dulles and congressional leaders of both parties.

Just before going to Georgia, he had talked personally and at length with Saudi Arabia's King Saud, as he had earlier with India's Nehru and has since with France's Premier Guy Mollet.

At the Humphrey plantation, he conferred by telephone at least once daily with Dulles, who was in Washington, regarding the Middle East. Some days they talked three times.

Eisenhower also transacted other government business there, just as he does from all other places when he is away from Washington.

But that is where the argument arises. There are some who contend Eisenhower's role in the Middle East crisis was a relatively passive one during his stay in Georgia. Others argue that except for face-to-face contacts Eisenhower can and does keep in just as close contact with developments while he is in the White House.

At a news conference shortly before going to Georgia in February, Eisenhower said he always insists on such trips every once in a while to help keep physically fit.

Last week he directed his disarmament aide, Harold E. Stassen, to report no longer to him but to Dulles in the State Department. That was interpreted in some quarters as a major delegation of presidential authority and a more passive role for Eisenhower henceforth in a very important field.

The counter-argument is that it simply was a victory for Dulles, who reportedly did not like the idea of a diplomatic function such as disarmament negotiations being carried on pretty much independently of the State Department.

And those on that side of the argument note that Eisenhower has said publicly several times that Dulles never makes a top policy decision without determining first that Eisenhower agrees.

Maine City Parochial Pupils Demand Public Bus Service

AUGUSTA, Maine (AP)—Parents of 600 Roman Catholic parochial school children today told Mayor H. Lloyd Carey they will place their children in already crowded public schools unless their youngsters get public school bus service.

The mayor, a Catholic who already has favored such parochial school transportation, received a petition bearing parent's signatures from William H. Bean, 30-year-old mill hand, is one of the leaders of the effort.

The mayor said the matter will be considered at a meeting of the Board of Education and education committee of the City Council. He will be present and he said he assumes "efforts will be made to reach some solution."

The City Council has refused to provide the parochial school bus service which city voter endorsed by a vote of 3,915-2,470 in an informal referendum Dec. 10.

Augusta, Maine's capital city, has a population of 21,000 with 90 children attending two parochial schools.

There is not state law prohibiting transportation of parochial school pupils in public school buses, which pick up public school youngsters residing at least a mile and one-half from their schools.

A week ago the parents set a March 11 deadline for the city to provide transportation for 187 parochial pupils living along existing routes served by school buses.

Major Obstacles In Suez Removed

SUEZ, Egypt (AP)—The U. N. salvage fleet has removed one of the last two major obstructions blocking passage of 10,000-ton ship through the Suez Canal.

Haul up was a big bucket dredger from the Suez end of the waterway Sunday.

The final obstruction to be taken out in the initial phase of canal clearance is the sunken tug Edgar Bonnet. The Egyptian government has not yet given permission to start work on the tug.

Egyptian officials say explosives aboard the sunken vessel must first be removed.

WHS To Stay in SCO

The way was paved along this line when the two new schools near Columbus came into being. Before that, there were few schools without league affiliations, or without satisfactory affiliations, to bring into the SCO. A way was approached several times, but finally decided not to join.

THE EXPANDING SCO is considered ideal by the Athletic Board because it puts Washington C. H. almost at the hub of the circuit, separated by no more than 35 miles from the farthest member, the new school now under construction.

The SCO will be a four-sport league for the seven (eventually eight) class AA schools Trace pointed out.

The stumbling block in the financial arrangement referred to by Trace in his letter was the Mid-Six policy of giving the first $150 to the visiting team and dividing equally the rest of the game's gate between the home and visiting teams.

The policy of the SCO has been a $30 guarantee for the visiting league team with the home team keeping the rest of the money. This, it was explained, has worked out satisfactorily because of the home-and-home schedule for league members.

THE WASHINGTON C. H. Athletic Board took steps to join the Mid-Six when it was being expanded into the Mid-Eight because of scheduling difficulties in the five-school SCO loop, Trace said.

The subject was first discussed when the Lions were playing basketball at London Dec. 11. London already belongs to Mid-Six.

When Washington withdrew from the Mid-Six to join the Central Buckeye League, the Washington C. H. Athletic Board was asked if it were interested. The board replied that it was and soon after that, the board was given a formal invitation for Washington C. H. to join the Mid-Six, which was being expanded to eight teams.

At that time, the WHS Athletic Board informally accepted the invitation, but the final decision and affiliation with the new Mid-Eight was not to come until March 12.

So certain did it appear that Washington C. H. would join the Mid-Eight when the invitation was extended that the SCO was notified of the withdrawal from the old loop.

Two quick meetings were then held by the SCO, the first at Circleville Feb. 13 and the next at Greenfield. The WHS board was asked to reconsider its action and the plan for expanding the SCO was unfolded.

The WHS board did reconsider and decided to remain with the SCO, rather than join the Mid-Six which now takes in schools at Marysville, Hilliards, London, Grove City, Westerville, Groveport and Gahanna.

Some of the details of the expansion program are to be worked out at next Wednesday night's SCO meeting at Hillsboro. Representatives of Franklin Heights and the new unnamed school are expected to be there.

Crowds weathered rain and threatening clouds Sunday to see five crews vie for attention with parades and the throb of carnival continued to intensify.

Senate Continues Mideast Debate

WASHINGTON (AP)—With over-riding passage seemingly assured, the Senate delayed voting and set today aside for further debate on President Eisenhower's Middle East resolution.

The resolution would make available military and economic assistance to Middle East nations and state U. S. readiness to use armed force if necessary to resist aggression. It cleared a major hurdle Saturday when the Senate defeated 58-28 a proposal to deny emergency foreign aid spending.

Ohio's quota is 336 million dollars.

or technical books for the school. Along with the cash awards, the students placing first, second and third in the county contest will have the right to compete in the second phase of the Science Awards Competition in a four-county district sponsored by the Armco Foundation.

The Armco Foundation is a non-profit, charitable institution operated by the Armco Steel Corp.

In the district are Fayette, Clinton, Warren and Butler counties, all of which will hold county contests.

Top award in the district competition will be a $2,400 scholarship, second a $1,600 scholarship and third an $800 scholarship.

Cash awards also will be given in the division competition. In the junior division: $20 first, $10 second and $5 third. In the senior division in each of the four categories: $40 first, $20 second and $10 third.

THE SCHOLARSHIPS will be awarded, however, without regard to category; that is, the best exhibits in any of the categories will win the scholarships.

Students will enter the competition with exhibits showing the application of general scientific principles in the junior division and principles of physics, chemistry, biology and engineering in the senior division.

These exhibits will be set up for the judges first at the Dayton Power & Light Co. auditorium here March 30. Those that place first, second and third in each division and each category will then be set up for judging at Lemon-Monroe High School on April 13.

Here, at the high school in Monroe, the scholarships will be awarded to students with the three best exhibits and cash prizes awarded.

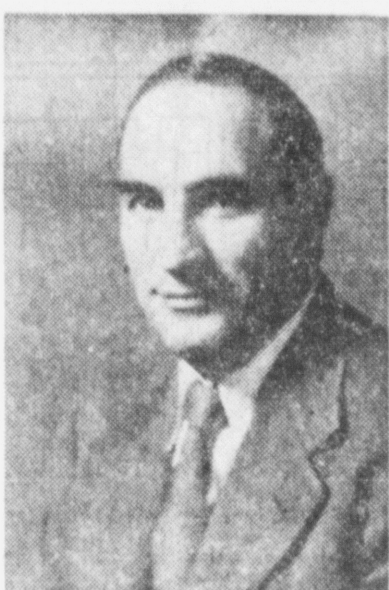

THE EXHIBITS must be something the student has constructed or developed, which show some originality of use, development or design.

The student must be prepared to give a description and demonstration.

THE JEFFETTS

The Jeffetts had fun making a tape recording at their regular meeting at Jeff High School. Phil Grover from the Extension Office made the tape for radio station WCHO. It will be presented as a part of 4-H week on Monday, March 4, at 11:30 a. m. with all the girls and the advisors Mrs. Slaughter and Mrs. Ritenour taking part.

Betty Jo Mitchell, president, presided over the business. Betty Hunt and Janet Mitchell gave the secretary and treasurer reports. Each girl answered roll call with her hobby. Margaret Kelley reported the coming year's events and demonstrations for the program committee. A trip is planned for the club to go to Springfield to visit a bakery, a candy factory, and a thermometer factory. The club accepted the by-laws and constitution as reported by Julie Stuckey for the committee. Shirley Walters and Rebecca Slaughter covered four miles of homes on Route 729 for the Heart Fund. Jane Smith gave the club a Safety Report on keeping stairways cleared of objects.

Margaret Kelley gave the first demonstration on grooming of the hair. Shirley Walters and Donna Smith, recreation leaders, led in games which were played and enjoyed by everyone.

Mrs. Slaughter showed pictures of aprons for the girls who are taking 4-H articles to use and wear.

Refreshments were served by Joyce Wilson and Donna Smith.

SCIZZORS WHIZZERS

The regular meeting of the Scizzors Whizzers 4-H Club was held at the home of the president, Ann Waters.

The members answered roll call by telling their favorite song. All members were present.

The secretary and treasurer gave her report.

A motion was made that Ann Killinder, the health and safety leader, try to get the health nurse to come to one of our meetings and discuss health and safety. There was a discussion on this subject. Ann is to give the answer at our next meeting.

Mrs. Hyer told the girls what they did at the conference yesterday.

A discussion was held on our projects.

Ann Waters gave a demonstration on how to make ham salad. The girls were then served refreshments.

The girls had a variety of recreation in the Waters' basement. The meeting was adjourned until March 7 at the home of Beverly Horney.

WILSON COUNTRY SISTERS

The Wilson Country Sisters 4-H Club toured the Courthouse Tuesday. Richard Rankin, who acted as guide for the tour, answered questions which were asked by the girls, and explained the functions of the various offices.

The girls visited the court room, the jury room, the clerk of courts, the law library, the Probate and Juvenile court, the county recorder's office, the county engineer, the county sheriff's office, the county health department, and the county board of education office. The members of the club found the tour very interesting.

How the Bureaucrats Scare Budget-Cutters

One example of how the bureaucrats, who push their lobbying activities to the limit to protect their own interests was illustrated, according to reports, by the federal postoffice department in connection with the House Appropriations Committee in Congress.

After the committee had proposed a cut of $58 million in the department's budget for the next fiscal year, members of the committee met with a storm of protests utterly confounding them. It was said to be almost as big and fearsome as if the committee had proposed tearing the whole federal government to pieces.

They were bombarded with telegrams from relatives, friends, and political associates of the bureaucrats concerned, and the Post Office Department itself warned thunderously that this relatively insignificant nip at a $3-billion-plus budget would bring widespread layoffs and curtailed postal services.

Chairman J. Vaughan Gary (D-Va) of the Appropriations subcommittee retorted in exasperation that his group is still recommending $76 million more for the Postoffice under the new budget than it receives under the current one, so that talk of layoffs and curtailed services is "obviously ridiculous."

This whole thing has become worse than ridiculous. It is flagrantly dishonest and has been growing into a real menace over the years. Its very flagrancy may help the American people to understand what they are up against in Washington; what the Congress in particular must contend with.

Many an official in Washington D. C. has become politically frightened and helpless in the face of a voracious bureaucracy. There need be no repetition of such surrender, however, if congressional budget-cutters are backed up by an aroused public opinion.

A Movie Script for a Shy Boy

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Hollywood always claims it is looking for fresh scripts about real people—scripts with a true-to-life flavor that carry a warm human appeal.

All right, Hollywood, let's test you. Here is a script that you are looking for. But will you buy it?

The script:
Once upon a time there is this tall, lanky Boy Scout who wears glasses, see, and is shy and awkward and so absent-minded that when he comes to a telephone pole he steps aside to let it pass because he is always polite and considerate of others.

Some people think he stutters, but he doesn't really stutter. He is just so struck with the moon-beam wonder of living that midway in a sentence he changes his mind because he has thought of something else to say. This makes his talk a bit puzzling.

He dreams of being an accordion player, a magician, an actor and a big game hunter. He reads about Charles Lindbergh flying the ocean alone, and he wishes he were Lindbergh.

"That boy Jim would do better to go to work in his dad's hardware store," say his neighbors in a town with the unlikely name of Indiana, Pa. "He don't know what he wants."

Instead Jim goes to Princeton University where, as thousands cheer (he's a cheerleader), he dreams of being an engineer, an actor, as stage boss.

Jim finally graduates (with a degree in architecture, his latest dream) and lands a job doing card tricks and playing an accordion in a New England tea-room. He does a few summer theater roles. Then he becomes a stage manager in Boston.

After a few on-and-off-stage noises along Broadway, Jim goes to Hollywood, where his shy and gangling charm win him a quick buildup as "The Boy Who Lives Next to the Girl Next Door."

The producers, who at first think Jim will be easy to push around because he is so polite and doesn't seem to know what he wants, are surprised to find he knows what he doesn't want—stereotyped roles. In 1940 he wins an Academy award in "The Philadelphia Story."

War looms. The draft board defers Jim because he is too light for his height. So he puts on 10 pounds, the draft board tosses him to the U. S. Corps as a private, and Jim's pay drops from $12,000 a month to $21.

He becomes a bomber pilot and goes over to Germany as a big game hunter in uniform. He flies 20 combat missions, comes home a full colonel with a Distinguished Flying Cross, won the only "ay it can be."

Jim takes up his film career where he had left it—at the peak. In 1949 he finds Florida, the girl he knows he wants, and they marry and have a fine pair of girl twins.

The last dream? In 1955 Warner Bros. asks Jim if he would like to play Lindbergh in a picture called "The Spirit of St. Louis."

"Be Lindbergh?" asks Jim. "I've dreamed of it most of my life."

Then, when the picture is completed, Uncle Sam adds a final touch. The President of the United States nominates Jim to be a brigadier general in the Air Force reserve—the same rank the real Lindbergh has.

A few days later, standing in the midst of a crowded studio party, Jim, who once wanted to be an accordion player, thinks back on all his boyhood dreams. All he came true but two. He hasn't been an engineer or an architect, but if he had, could he have built or designed a happier life?

That, Hollywood, is the script. If you want to buy it, see Jimmy Stewart. He lived it.

Does He Mean It?

By George Sokolsky

I received a letter from a lawyer, Francis C. Lowthorp. Maybe the lawyer is pulling my leg. Maybe he is a humorist. He begins thus:

"I am deeply grieved to read your attack upon our distinguished guests, the foreign ambassadors, which appeared in one of your recent columns. To me it is sad that the mere killing of an obscure and unimportant American citizen on the streets of New York City should blind a man of your intelligence to the absolute necessity of preserving the high privileges and prerogatives of these servants of humanity who graciously come to our shores, at our invitation, to carry on the sublime work of the United Nations and assist in cementing the warm bonds of friendship and mutual esteem which so firmly unite us with great and good Marxists like M. Broz."

The reference to the "obscure and unimportant American citizen" is to a woman who was walking on sidewalk with a little girl, her daughter, both attending to their own business which was to buy groceries for their family, when along came an automobile that had jumped on the sidewalk, and killed the woman. The car was driven by the Yugoslav ambassador to the United Nations who enjoys diplomatic immunity by virtue of which I recently was told is not in good order. Because it is not in good order, the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security served a subpoena on Dr. Ludwik Rajchman, Polish delegate to UNICEF, who is believed by the Senate committee, on advice and information, to have been Alger Hiss's boss in the conspiracy business.

At any rate, Rajchman threw the subpoena on the floor, whereupon the Senate committee sent him a telegram giving him what for. Upon receipt of this, Rajchman got himself a seat on an airplane and sallied forth to his beloved Poland and UNICEF, which when translated into English means the United Nations Children's Fund, will have to do without him.

It is interesting to note that Ludwik Rajchman made no attempt to test his diplomatic immunity. It will be of value to note that the committee believes that he contract between the United States and the United Nations concerning diplomatic immunity is legally not sufficiently binding so that a subpoena would stand up when served on a diplomat.

If the Senate committee is on sound ground, why do not the police authorities in New York arrest the Yugoslav diplomat whose joyride on a sidewalk resulted in the killing of this American woman who, although as Mr. Lowthorp says was "obscure and unimportant," nevertheless was entitled to use our sidewalks to go to a grocery store?

Diplomatic immunity is dangerous in a city like New York where there is little space for honest residents to say nothing of diplomats who double and triple park, sometime in front of fire hydrants, some of them not being familiar with such devices which they do not have in their weak

Steel Demand Expected To Show Increase

CLEVELAND (AP)—There are "several signs," Steel Magazine said today, that "a strengthening in steel demand in May and June is a strong possibility."

The trade magazine said steel warehouses in the New York and Philadelphia areas expect stronger buying of hot-rolled carbon steel bars in May and June, and noted "continuing" good business and Chicago area warehouses.

In addition, it found that on the West Coast "most mills' second quarter order books are just about filled, and indications point to full books for the third."

Commenting that "highway construction is expanding as a good steel customer," Steel said "in the Chicago area, toll road and highway construction this year and next will keep pressure on structural shapes and plates."

It also said "in the Philadelphia and New York areas, highway work is showing more improvement, percentage-wise as well as tonnage-wise, than any other important line of construction."

The national steel ingot production rate last week was 97 percent of rated capacity, off half a point from the previous week.

Diet and Health TB Is Still Threat In Spite of Controls

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN
You don't hear much about tuberculosis any more. Get into a discussion with anyone about the disease and they're likely to respond:

"TB? Why that's all licked. Look how the death rate has dropped. It's no problem any more."

Well, let's look at the record. It's true, fortunately, that we have cut the TB death rate by 90 percent in the last half century.

Still a Threat

But it's also true that tuberculosis still strikes one American every five minutes; that nearly 60,000,000 Americans are infected with TB germs right now, and that about 400,000 of them have active cases.

At least 1,200,000 of these TB victims need medical care or medical supervision for either active or inactive cases. And 400,000 of them probably don't even know they have the disease.

With so many persons capable of spreading the infection, I think you'll agree that tuberculosis is still presents quite a sizable problem.

Likely Victims

Who is likely to become a victim of TB?

Tuberculosis can strike anyone, any time anywhere. I can kill at all ages.

Recently, however, we have observed that TB is becoming more a disease of older persons. More new cases and more deaths occur in middle life and old age than in the younger years.

Men appear to be more vulnerable since TB attacks about twice as many men as women. Especially hard hit by the disease are Negroes, Americans of Spanish descent, and American Indians.

You give the germ a better chance to gain a foothold if you are in poor general health. An inadequate diet, frequent exposure to infections, poor housing—these are among the numerous health and social problems which help lower the body's resistance.

Yet, even if you're in good health, you've got to protect yourself from the ever present danger of tuberculosis.

To be sure, see your doctor.

The Nation Today

James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—How will the United States look in all this Israeli-Arab controversy?

That question has been temporarily obscured by the more sensational on-again-off-again efforts of the State Department to get the Israelis to pull back out of territory claimed by Egypt: the Gaza Strip and Qaba Gulf area.

It will move up front and center as events unfold.

Friday, after weeks of talks with Secretary of State Dulles, the Israelis announced to the United Nations they would pull back. The statement was made by Mrs. Golda Meir, Israeli foreign minister.

Then Israel had demanded — of the United States or the U.N. — guarantees that if it did withdraw Egypt would not be permitted to use Gaza or the gulf area to resume raids against Israel or blockade shipping.

No public guarantees were given. But Mrs. Meir said Israel was basing its willingness to withdraw on "assumptions" and "confidence" that U.N. forces would move in when the Israelis moved out.

Those words were bound to raise questions: Had the Israelis some secret promise or agreement from Dulles that the United States somehow would be able to get the U.N. to put its troops in the vacated areas? The Arabs had opposed any promises or guarantees to Israel on grounds that an aggressor — Israel had attacked and seized the territory from Egypt last fall — should not be rewarded for aggression.

And Egyptian President Nasser had insisted weeks ago that U.N. troops could occupy Egyptian territory only so long as it pleased him to let them stay.

So world attention centered on Henry Cabot Lodge, United States representative in the U.N., and there he followed Mrs. Meir before the U.N.

He said he didn't consider Israel's withdrawal "conditional." He made a long speech so involved that it could, possibly, seem like one thing to the Arabs and another to the Israelis.

There was no enthusiastic response from the Arabs in the U.N. and the Israelis, judging from the extraordinary Cabinet meeting they held over the weekend, were having second thoughts about withdrawing.

Dulles, anxious that the Arab nations in the Middle East would not think this country had worked out a deal with the Israelis, called in the representatives of nine Arab countries and told them that Israel had extracted "no promises or concessions whatsoever" from the United States in return for agreeing to the troop pullout.

But the Arabs, after the conference with Dulles, were reported in a "Let's wait and see" mood.

The Israelis apparently weren't happy either.

Last week, shortly before his government said it would pull back, Israeli Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion wrote to a friendly London editor and told him his country's struggle "is not against an enemy but against a friend—the United States government."

He said: "It is our earnest hope that the wisdom and sense of fair play of the American people will prevail over considerations of mistaken political expediency."

Dulles and President Eisenhower had worked for the Israeli withdrawal not only to bring peace to the Middle East but to avoid a showdown fight in the U.N.

The Arabs were demanding sanctions against Israel if it didn't pull back. If the United States backed such sanctions, it would anger friends of Israel in this country and among American allies abroad like France and Britain.

If it didn't back sanctions, it would anger the Arabs, whom Eisenhower is trying to win over with his Middle East program.

How the Bureaucrats Scare Budget-Cutters

One example of how the bureaucrats, who push their lobbying activities to the limit to protect their own interests was illustrated, according to reports, by the federal postoffice department in connection with the House Appropriations Committee in Congress.

After the committee had proposed a cut of $58 million in the department's budget for the next fiscal year, members of the committee met with a storm of protests utterly confounding them. It was said to be almost as big and fearsome as if the committee had proposed tearing the whole federal government to pieces.

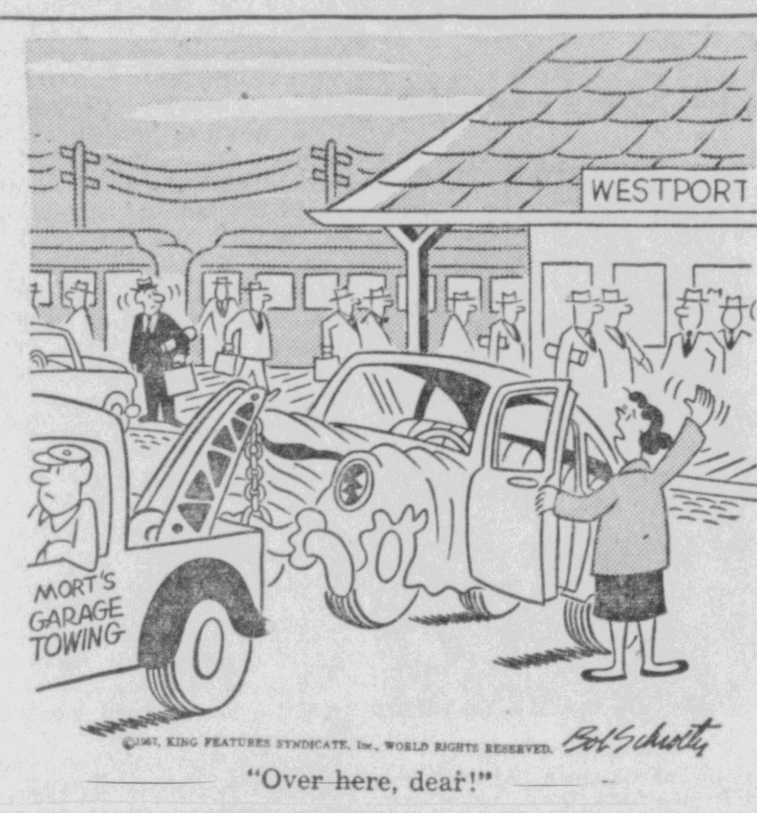

They were bombarded with telegrams from relatives, friends, and political associates of the bureaucrats concerned, and the Post Office Department itself warned thunderously that this relatively insignificant nip at a $3-billion-plus budget would bring widespread layoffs and curtailed postal services.

Chairman J. Vaughan Gary (D-Va.) of the Appropriations subcommittee retorted in exasperation that his group is still recommending $76 million more for the Postoffice under the new budget than it receives under the current one, so that talk of layoffs and curtailed services is "obviously ridiculous."

This whole thing has become worse than ridiculous. It is flagrantly dishonest and has been growing into a real menace over the years. Its very flagrancy may help the American people to understand what they are up against in Washington; what the Congress in particular must contend with.

Many an official in Washington D. C. has become politically frightened and helpless in the face of a voracious bureaucracy. There need be no repetition of such surrender, however, if congressional budget-cutters are backed up by an aroused public opinion.

Diet and Health TB Is Still Threat In Spite of Controls

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

You don't hear much about tuberculosis any more. Get into a discussion with anyone about the disease and they're likely to respond:

"TB? Why that's all licked. Look how the death rate has dropped. It's no problem any more."

Well, let's look at the record. It's true, fortunately, that we have cut the TB death rate by 90 percent in the last half century.

Still a Threat

But it's also true that tuberculosis still strikes one American every five minutes; that nearly 60,000,000 Americans are infected with TB germs right now, and that about 400,000 of them have active cases.

At least 1,200,000 of these TB victims need medical care or medical supervision for either active or inactive cases. And 400,000 of them probably don't even know they have the disease.

With so many persons capable of spreading the infection, I think you'll agree that tuberculosis is still presents quite a sizable problem.

is still presents quite a sizable problem.

Likely Victims

Who is likely to become a victim of TB?

Tuberculosis can strike anyone, any time anywhere. I can kill at all ages.

Recently, however, we have observed that TB is becoming more a disease of older persons. More new cases and more deaths occur in middle life and old age than in the younger years.

Men appear to be more vulnerable since TB attacks about twice as many men as women. Especially hard hit by the disease are Negroes, Americans of Spanish descent, and American Indians.

You give the germ a better chance to gain a foothold if you are in poor general health. An inadequate diet frequent exposure to infections, poor housing—these are among the numerous health and social problems which help lower the body's resistance.

Yet, even if you're in good health, you've got to protect yourself from the ever present danger of tuberculosis.

To be sure, see your doctor.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

O. G.: I have noticed a marked difficulty in swallowing. Liquid foods are easily taken, but I have difficulty swallowing solid and soft foods. What could cause this?

Answer: It may be due to some form of constriction of the tube leading from the mouth to the stomach.

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—How will the United States look in all this Israeli-Arab controversy?

That question has been temporarily obscured by the more sensational on-again-off-again efforts of the State Department to get the Israelis to pull back out of territory claimed by Egypt: the Gaza Strip and Quba Gulf area.

It will move up front and center as events unfold.

Friday, after weeks of talks with Secretary of State Dulles, the Israelis announce to the United Nations they would pull back. The statement was made by Mrs. Golda Meir, Israeli foreign minister.

Then Israel had demanded — of the United States or the U.N. — guarantees that if it withdrew Egypt would not be permitted to use Gaza or the Gulf area to resume raids against Israel or blockade shipping.

So world attention centered on Henry Cabot Lodge, United States representative in the U.N. and then a spokesman for Dulles, when he followed Mrs. Meir before the U.N.

He said he didn't consider Israel's withdrawal "conditional." He made a long speech so involved that it could, possibly, seem like one thing to the Arabs and another to the Israelis.

There was no enthusiastic response from the Arabs in the U.N. and the Israelis, judging from the extraordinary Cabinet meeting they held over the weekend, were having second thoughts about withdrawing.

A Movie Script for a Shy Boy

NEW YORK (AP)—Hollywood always claims it is looking for fresh scripts about real people—scripts with a true-to-life flavor that carry a warm human appeal.

All right, Hollywood, let's test you. Here is a script that has everything you say you are looking for. Will you buy it?

The script:

Once upon a time there is this tall, lanky Boy Scout who wears glasses, see, and is shy and awkward and so absent-minded that when he comes to a telephone pole he steps aside to let it pass because he is always polite and considerate of others.

Some people think he stutters, but he doesn't really stutter. He is just so struck with the moon-beam wonder of living that midway in a sentence he changes his mind because he has thought of something else to say. This makes his talk a bit puzzling.

He dreams of being an accordion player, a magician, an actor and a big game hunter. He reads about Charles Lindbergh flying the ocean alone, and he wishes he were Lindbergh.

"That boy Jim would do better to go to work in his dad's hardware store," say his neighbors in a town with the unlikely name of Indiana, Pa. "He don't know what he wants."

Instead Jim goes to Princeton University where, as thousands cheer (he's a cheerleader), he dreams of being an engineer, an actor, as stage boss.

Jim finally graduates (with a degree in architecture, his latest dream) and lands a job doing card tricks and playing an accordion in a New England tea-room. He does a few summer theater roles. Then he becomes a stage manager in Boston.

After a few on-and-off-stage noises along Broadway, Jim goes to Hollywood, where his shy and gangling charm win him a quick buildup as "The Boy Who Lives Next to the Girl Next Door."

The producers, who at first think Jim will be easy to push around because he is so polite and doesn't seem to know what he wants, are surprised to find he knows what he doesn't want—stereotyped roles. In 1940 he wins an Academy award in "The Philadelphia Story."

War looms. The draft board defers Jim because he is too light for his height. So he puts on 10 pounds, the draft board tosses him to the U. S. Corps as a private, and Jim's pay drops from $12,000 a month to $21.

He becomes a bomber pilot and goes over to Germany as a big game hunter in uniform. He flies 20 combat missions, comes home a full colonel with a Distinguished Flying Cross, won the only "ay" it can be.

Jim takes up his film career where he had left it—at the peak. In 1949 he finds Gloria, the girl he knows he wants, and they marry and have a fine pair of girl twins.

The last dream? In 1955 Warner Bros. asks Jim if he would like to play Lindbergh in a picture called "The Spirit of St. Louis."

"Be Lindbergh?" asks Jim. "I've dreamed of it most of my life."

Then, when the picture is completed, Uncle Sam adds a final touch. The President of the United States nominates Jim to be a brigadier general in the Air Force reserve—the same rank the real Lindbergh has.

A few days later, standing in the midst of a crowded studio party, Jim, who once wanted to be an accordion player, thinks back on all his boyhood dreams. All have come true but two. He hasn't been an engineer or an architect, but if he had, could he have built or designed a happier life?

That, Hollywood, is the script. If you want to buy it, see Jimmy Stewart. He lived it.

Does He Mean It?

I received a letter from a lawyer, Francis C. Lowthorp. Maybe the lawyer is pulling my leg. Maybe he is a humorist. He begins thus:

"I am deeply grieved to read your attack upon our distinguished guests, the foreign ambassadors, which appeared in one of your recent columns. To me it is said that the mere killing of an obscure and unimportant American citizen on the streets of New York City should blind a man of your intelligence to the absolute necessity of preserving the high privileges and prerogatives of these servants of humanity who graciously come to our shores, at our invitation, to carry on the sublime work of the United Nations and assist in cementing the warm bonds of friendship and mutual esteem which so firmly unite us with great and good Marxists like M. Broz."

The reference to the "obscure and unimportant American citizen" is to a woman who was walking on sidewalk with a little girl, her daughter, both attending to their own business which was to buy groceries for their family, when along came an automobile that had jumped on the sidewalk, and killed the woman. The car was driven by the Yugoslav ambassador to the United Nations who enjoys diplomatic immunity by virtue of which I recently was told is not in good order. Because it is not in good order, the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security served a subpoena on Dr. Ludwik Rajchman, Polish delegate to UNICEF, who is believed by the Senate committee, on advice and information, to have been Alger Hiss's boss in the conspiracy business.

At any rate, Rajchman threw the subpoena on the floor, whereupon the Senate committee sent him a telegram giving him what for. Upon receipt of this, Rajchman got himself a seat on an airplane and sallied forth to his beloved Poland and UNICEF, which when translated into English means the United Nations Children's Fund, will have to do without him.

It is interesting to note that Ludwik Rajchman made no attempt to test his diplomatic immunity. It will be of value to note that the committee believes that he contract between the United States and the United Nations concerning diplomatic immunity is legally not sufficiently binding so that a subpoena would stand up when served on a diplomat.

If the Senate committee is on sound ground, why do not the police authorities in New York arrest the Yugoslav diplomat whose joyride on a sidewalk resulted in the killing of this American woman who, although as Mr. Lowthorp says was "obscure and unimportant," nevertheless was entitled to use our sidewalks to go to a grocery store?

Diplomatic immunity is dangerous in a city like New York where there is little space for honest residents to say nothing of diplomats who double and triple park, sometime in front of fire hydrants, some of them not being familiar with such devices which they do not have in their weak and backward countries.

Mr. Lowthorp writes further:

"You carp at diplomatic immunity. For shame, sir. Has it not existed in all modern times, has it not been approved and commended by the State Department and is it not therefore, ipso facto, indisputably wise and right? And it is particularly distressing that you direct your unwarranted tirade against the representative of a more or less undeveloped country which is struggling so hard to rid of the shackles of Moscow. Would you deny the protection accorded the British ambassador to the more humble but equally worthy legatee of the Kish-Ka Bob kingdoms, rug dealers and petroleum potentates?..."

Forsooth, I hang my head in shame at the very thought of not taking seriously the immunities of the lace-seller's and camel driver's and date eater's kingdoms. Nay, I should include Ali Babi and the 40 thieves. I am contrite. The next time Krishna Menon speaks for seven hours, I shall listen until exhausted. I shall go to his Jewish physician for my Milton. For be it known in Gath and wherever else anyone is interested that despite Nasser's protestations, the physician who rescued Krishna Menon from the stifling effects upon his heart of his own speech-making, is of the faith of the Israeli who are to be crushed into the sands of the desert by the descendants of Sehm and Ham.

Steel Demand Expected To Show Increase

CLEVELAND (AP)—There are "several signs," Steel Magazine said today, that "a strengthening in steel demand in May and June is a strong possibility."

The trade magazine said steel warehouses in the New York and Philadelphia areas expect stronger buying of hot-rolled carbon steel bars in May and June, and noted "continuing" good business and Chic go area warehouses.

In addition, it found that on the West Coast "mos' mills' second quarter order books are just about filled, and indications point to full books for the third."

Commenting that "highway construction is expanding as a good steel customer," Steel said "in the Chicago area, toll road and highway construction this year and next will keep pressure on structural shapes and plates."

It also said "in the Philadelphia and New York areas, highway work is showing more improvement, percentage-wise as well as tonnage-wise, than any other important line of construction."

The national steel ingot production rate last week was 97 percent of rated capacity, off half a point from the previous week.

DiSalle Fearful Of State Spending

CINCINNATI (AP)—Mike DiSalle, Democratic candidate for governor in the last general election, believes there are indications the administration of Gov. William O'Neill will be "the most extravagant in the history of Ohio."

"It already is proving to be the most expensive," the former Toledo mayor said here Saturday. "Sometimes you can excuse increases in the cost of government because of growth, but extravagance is never excusable."

LAFAYETTE, INDIANA

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY
Next to a ford across a stream, I presume about the next method used in providing a crossing was a "brush bridge".

I have learned that one of these rare "brush bridges" was for many years maintained across Paint Creek, although it was known as a Rock Bridge."

Rock Bridge is the water-level bridge built across Paint Creek on the Creek Rd., or Rock Bridge Rd. when the Creek Rd. was opened from Rock Bridge to a point a half mile southward where the road from Rock Mills ended.

Frank M. Garringer, of Rock Mills, recalls when "Rock Bridge" was a brush bridge, and the brush was held in place by heavy glacial stones placed on the brush at each side of the "bridge".

As a matter of fact many glacial stones had been dumped into the creek at that point, to make a foundation for the brush bridge, and when the latter was in good condition it permitted free flow of the water through it, and at the same time was a safe cause way for horses, and light vehicles, as well as pedestrians.

It was necessary to rebuild the bridge to some extent every few years, and following floods.

It was in September, 1938 that Rock Bridge, formerly the old brush bridge which had not been used for a great many years, was torn out and replaced with the present water-level concrete bridge. The present bridge has numerous large drain tile extending through it, which care for a normal flow of water.

During flood times the bridge, of course, is impassable.

When the famous Sturgeon Mill was in operation on Paint Creek immediately below where Sugar Creek enters Paint, two roads crossed Paint Creek at that point. One of them led southeastward across Paint Creek, at a ford. It connected with the Rock Bridge Rd. and the famous "Fiddler's Green" area along the road on the east bank of Paint Creek, where dances, picnics, and frolics generally were held over a long period of years.

The second road, after following the Sturgeon Mill race up—stream 100 yards, crossed the millrace by a rustic bridge, Paint Creek was forded, and the road then extended northeastward up the east bank of Paint Creek to a point a few rods south of "Rock Bridge, where it connected with the present Rock Bridge Rd.

Both of the fords were abandoned with the end of the horse and buggy days, as they were too deep for automobiles.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Two outstanding events took place 40 years ago this week. One was the great demonstration staged when Company M., under Capt. O. E. Hardway returned after several months duty on the Mexican border where U. S. troops were sent after the bandit general, Pancho Villa.

The second event was U. S. government's arming of merchantmen with instructions to shoot to sink any vessel halting them or seeking to destroy them. It was the first answer to the Germany's unrestricted submarine warfare.

Because Austria also took the stand alongside Germany, a break with that nation was pending.

Woodrow Wilson was inaugurated for the second term, and a big delegation for woman suffrage, took part in the parade.

Charles A. Crooks and Mrs. J. W. Rothrock died.

Marion Township set March 19 to vote on a $15,000 bond issue for a centralized school building to be located on Waterloo Rd.

"NO LOITERING"

I notice a "No Loitering" sign which for sometime has been posted at the Fountain Corner on the Courthouse lawn to keep loafers from sitting on the stonework about the fountain and damaging the flowers.

It is an excellent idea, but I could not help but think, when I noticed it a few days ago, that information handed down, together with pictures of the old courthouse which stood on the spot, disclosed that the corner was the chief loafing place in the city for just about everyone, and particularly the "big boys" with the tall hats and long-tailed coats who gathered to discuss current events and politics.

I have been told that some of the county officials in the old courthouse, spent about as much time standing out in front, talking politics and keeping themselves before the public, as they did at their work inside the old brick structure.

Medical Quackery Chided by Expert

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Chicago medical columnist believes "quackery" thrives on diseases that have resisted science.

"The huge army of the weak, the unfit and the ailing will ever be on the lookout for the workers of miracles . . . They and their loved ones always will be scanning the horizon for hope and they always will be ready to spend the last penny of their savings on a journey to the home of some wonder worker."

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Next to a ford across a stream, I presume about the next method used in providing a crossing was a "brush bridge".

I have learned that one of these rare "brush bridges" was for many years maintained across Paint Creek, although it was known as a Rock Bridge.

Rock Bridge is the water-level bridge built across Paint Creek on the Creek Rd., or Rock Bridge Rd. when the Creek Rd. was opened from Rock Bridge to a point a half mile southward where the road from Rock Mills ended.

Frank M. Garring, of Rock Mills, recalls when "Rock Bridge" was a brush bridge, and the brush was held in place by heavy glacial stones placed on the brush at each side of the "bridge".

As a matter of fact many glacial stones had been dumped into the creek at that point, to make a foundation for the brush bridge, and when the latter was in good condition it permitted free flow of the water through it, and at the same time was a safe causeway for horses, and light vehicles, as well as pedestrians.

It was necessary to rebuild the bridge to some extent every few years, and following floods.

It was in September, 1938 that Rock Bridge, formerly the old brush bridge which had not been used for a great many years, was torn out and replaced with the present water-level concrete bridge. The present bridge has numerous large drain tile extending through it, which care for a normal flow of water.

During flood times the bridge, of course, is impassable.

When the famous Sturgeon Mill was in operation on Paint Creek immediately below where Sugar Creek enters Paint, two roads crossed Paint Creek at that point. One of them led southeastward across Paint Creek, at a ford, it connected with the Rock Bridge Rd. and the famous "Fiddler's Green" area along the road on the east bank of Paint Creek, where dances, picnics, and frolics generally were held over a long period of years.

The second road, after following the Sturgeon Mill race up — stream 100 yards, crossed the millrace by a rustic bridge, Paint Creek was forded, and the road then extended northeastward up the east bank of Paint Creek to a point a few rods south of "Rock Bridge, where it connected with the present Rock Bridge Rd.

Both of the fords were abandoned with the end of the horse and buggy days, as they were too deep for automobiles.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Two outstanding events took place 40 years ago this week. One was the great demonstration staged when Company M., under Capt. O. E. Hardway returned after several months duty on the Mexican border where U. S. troops were sent after the bandit general, Pancho Villa.

The second event was U. S. government's arming of merchantmen with instructions to shoot to sink any vessel halting them or seeking to destroy them. It was the first answer to the Germany's unrestricted submarine warfare.

Because Austria also took the stand alongside Germany, a break with that nation was pending.

Woodrow Wilson was inaugurated for the second term, and a big delegation for woman suffrage, took part in the parade.

Charles A. Crooks and Mrs. J. W. Rothrock died.

Marion Township set March 19 to vote on a $15,000 bond issue for a centralized school building to be located on Waterloo Rd.

"NO LOITERING"

I notice a "No Loitering" sign which for sometime has been posted at the Fountain Corner on the Courthouse lawn to keep loafers from sitting on the stonework about the fountain and damaging the flowers.

It is an excellent idea, but I could not help but think, when I noticed it a few days ago, that information handed down, together with pictures of the old courthouse which stood on the spot, disclosed that the corner was the chief loafing place in the city for just about everyone, and particularly the "big boys" with the tall hats and long-tailed coats who gathered to discuss current events and politics.

I have been told that some of the county officials in the old courthouse, spent about as much time standing out in front, talking politics and keeping themselves before the public, as they did at their work inside the old brick structure.

Medical Quackery Chided by Expert

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Chicago medical columnist believes "quackery" thrives on diseases that have resisted science.

Dr. Walter C. Alvarez, in a lecture at the centennial of the Cincinnati Academy of Medicine, said the quack often gets wealthy while the less-spectacular but competent physician gets little acclaim.

"The huge army of the weak, the unfit and the ailing will ever be on the lookout for the workers of miracles . . . They and their loved ones always will be scanning the horizon for hope and they always will be ready to spend the last penny of their savings on a journey to the home of some wonder worker."

Perrill-Young Vows Exchanged Saturday

Arrangements of white snapdragons and pom poms softly lighted with white tapers in seven branch candelabra, entwined with huckleberry graced the altar of Grace Methodist Church, Saturday evening for the wedding of Miss Mary Jean Perrill and Ensign James Quinter Young, Jr.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hugh Perrill of the Devalon Road, and Ensign Young's parents, are Mr. and Mrs. James Quinter Young of Shaker Heights.

The vows of the double ring ceremony were exchanged by the couple as the hands of the clock approached eight, with Rev. Lloyd J. Poe, officiating and were preceded by a half hour of music presented by Mrs. Harford H. Hankins, Jr., soloist and Miss Marian Christopher organist. Mrs. Hankins included in her numbers "Through The Years" — Youmans; "Because" — d'Hardelot and "The Pledge" by Black. Miss Christopher's selections were "Nuptial Benediction" — Saint Saens; "Fantaisie" — Dubois; "Wedding Hymn", Barnby; "Romance" — De Bussey and the wedding marches.

Given in marriage by her father, the lovely brunette bride wore a gown of blush pink pure silk peau de soie. The scoop neckline of the basque bodice was accentuated with appliques of hand run Alencon lace highlighted with tiny seed pearls, appliques of lace encrusted with pearls, were used in an apron effect in the front of the extremely full skirt which terminated in a full chapel train. Her fingertip veil of imported French illusion was held in place by an Evangeline cap of peau de soie, featuring an open crown, edged with Alencon lace and seed pearls. Her bridal bouquet was a cascade of pink Camellias, stephanotis and ivy.

Mrs. Stan R. Sheridan of Fort Knox, Kentucky, attended her sister, as matron of honor, Mrs. Jerry Dray of Washington C. H. was bridesmatron and Miss Martha Jean Young, of Shaker Heights, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid.

The attendants wore identical gowns of mist green, sheer silk, fashioned with empire bodices, scoop necklines and petite sleeves. The semi-sheath skirts had full flounces creating soft folds in the back. They wore matching horsehair headbands studded with seed pearls and their bouquets were cascades of deep pink roses and ivy.

Mrs. Perrill received the guests in a beige Chantilly lace dress with a scalloped bolero effect, sweetheart neckline, brief sleeves and a skirt fashioned along slender lines. She wore a bandeau of mauve feathers in her hair and a lavender orchid was pinned at her shoulder.

Mrs. Young chose for the occasion a cobalt blue lace dress with accessories of navy blue, a small matching sequin hat, and her corsage was of gardenias.

The club lounge was softly candlelighted and the mantels were banked with greenery and forsythia which created a beautiful setting.

Ireland Tense On Election Eve

DUBLIN, Ireland (P) — Tension gripped Ireland today on election eve, sparked by fears that the outlawed Irish Republican Army (IRA) might strike a dramatic gesture of defiance.

Although the campaign was the quietest since southern Ireland's 26 counties won independence in 1922, special emergency precautions were taken along the jittery frontier separating the republic from the six British-ruled northern counties of Ireland.

American-born, 74-year-old Eamon de Valera, in fighting trim though nearly blind, has wound up a strong campaign to win back the premiership. De Valera's Fianna Fail (men of destiny) appeared out front in the campaigning for the Republic's 18th national election Tuesday.

The election was forced by the resignation of a coalition government led for the past three years by John A. Costello, mild-mannered 65-year-old Dublin lawyer.

Sinn Fein, political arm of the illegal IRA, has entered a slate of 19 parliamentary candidates for the election as a show of strength. The Sinn Feiners say they would not take their seats in the Dail (parliament) even if they won, as a protest against the partition of Ireland.

The established political parties, though favoring uniting the country, have condemned the IRA's recent armed raids into northern Ireland as a futile way of solving the problem.

An American Irishman has appeared on the platform at Sinn Fein rallies urging support of the movement. He was identified as John Fafferty, 60, Chicago, who was born in Londonderry, Ulster, and emigrated to the United States in 1929.

Lafferty said he was retired and had returned to Ireland to visit his sisters. He declined to discuss his activities on behalf of the united Ireland cause.

TOTTORI, Japan (P) — A Japanese air force twin engine transport carrying 17 persons—including two Americans—crashed into the Japan Sea at Miho air base today. A Japanese defense spokesman said all 17 aboard are missing and there is little hope any would be found alive.

BONN (P) — West Germany has agreed to increase its contribution for the maintenance of British troops in this country to 588 million marks ($139,944,000) in the year beginning May 5. The payment this year is 400 million marks ($95,200,000).

BERN (P) — Switzerland's voters have turned down by a narrow margin a proposal to make civil defense training compulsory for women.

CIAOR (P) — Helmy Bahgat Bawawi, chairman of the board of directors of the Suez Canal Authority, died today after a heart attack. He was 56. Bahawi was appointed chairman when Egypt nationalized the waterway last July.

BERLIN (P) — Neues Deutschland, the East German Communist party paper, said today the Soviet Union has developed a vacuum cleaner that also washes clothes. It didn't say how it worked.

KUSHIRO, Japan (P) — A 78-ton cod fishing boat with a crew of 17 aboard is believed to have gone down off the northern Kurile Islands, the Maritime Safety Board said today. The Almatu Maru has not been heard from since it sent an SOS Saturday night.

CLEVELAND (P) — Members of the Mechanics Educational Society of America vote Tuesday on a proposal to settle a strike that has idled 1,600 at the axle division of Eaton Mfg. Co. here.

The question will go before the membership with a recommendation from the union's 33-member strike committee that it be rejected.

The committee's recommendation, decided at a meeting Saturday, brought a sharp statement from the company Sunday night. The company said the committee "by repudiating an agreement reached last Monday, must bear the full responsibility for the continuation of the illegal strike."

The company said the agreement reached a week ago with union representatives stipulated that the proposal to settle the strike be recommended to the membership by the union leadership, and that the union meeting was to have been held last week.

Stephen Nagy, president of the local unit, termed the company statement "name calling" and charged that the company did not bargain "in good faith."

At issue in the strike is whether the company can discipline union shop committeemen. Workers walked out after Eaton suspended two committeemen for what the company called "roaming the shop and questioning employees."

Round pencil lead has been used only since 1876; before that, leads were square.

WCH Couple Wins Honors For Pictures

Mrs. Frank Mayo, Fayette County chairman of the association, said Monday that she and Mrs. J. Earl Gidding, of Washington C. H., an association trustee, are now working out plans with Mr. and Mrs. Hays for a public showing of the three pictures here this spring.

The competition is sponsored every year by the association to get pictures for use in the Ohioana engagements calendar. The calendar, sold throughout the state as one of the association's financing projects.

THE THEME for the 1958 engagements calendar is "Ohioans at Work," and the pictures selected for it depicted some form of work by Ohioans, Mrs. Mayo explained.

Mr. and Mrs. Hays, who entered their three pictures jointly, received cash awards of $5 each.

One of their pictures, "Golden Grain," was taken on the Elmer Zimmerman farm on the Prairie Rd. It shows Zimmerman holding an ear of corn.

Another, "Busy Hands," shows Miss Clara Zimmerman peeling apples.

The third shows a tractor pulling a load of baled hay.

The first place award went to George Smallsreed Jr. of Columbus for his picture of a boy snow-balling a police officer. It is entitled "An Honest Officer."

Explorer Scout Group Camps on Rocky Fork

Three boys from the Explorer division of Boy Scout Troop No. 112 returned Sunday morning from an overnight camping trip on Rocky Fork Lake in Highland County.

The boys left Saturday morning, cooked dinner and supper Saturday and breakfast Sunday morning.

Boys on the trip were Henry Pendergraft, Larry Rayburn and Jim Merritt.

Heart Fund Campaign Well over Goal Here

The Heart Fund campaign in Fayette County has surpassed its goal—and is still going.

Miss Marian Moore, the campaign chairman, said Friday that collections of $3,995 have been reported, with three townships yet to be heard from and only partial returns in from two others.

A number of the envelopes left at homes where no one answered the door on Heart Sunday have not yet been received and the money in the plastic hearts in places of business has not been counted.

The goal this year was $3,850, or 23½ per cent increase over last year.

Miss Moore said no reports had been received up to Friday from Wayne, Perry and Green townships and only partial reports were in from Concord and Paint townships.

THE $3,995, Miss Moore said, includes contributions amounting to $1,707 from Washington C. H. and $1,028 from the rest of the county

(including the four villages), $140 from the benefit card party sponsored by the Newcomers Club, $115 from the benefit movie at the Fayette Theater sponsored by the three WHS Y-Teen clubs, memorial gifts of $202, donations of $658 from business and $195 from not-at-home envelopes.

Miss Moore said contributions in the rural areas showed a "good increase" over those in the past.

The major solicitation of the campaign was on Heart Sunday, Feb. 24. The canvass was virtually completed in Washington C. H. and the villages on that day, but because homes are farther apart in the rural area more time was allowed for this phase of the campaign.

Miss Moore said the committee hopes to have the campaign completed not later than the end of this week.

Thugs Send Irish Train on Wild Trip

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP)—Three masked gunmen held up a train inside the Irish Republic Saturday, forced its crew off and then sent the unmanned locomotive and 27 freight cars speeding into Northern Ireland.

The 90-ton engine gradually lost speed. It tumbled into the main railroad terminus at Londonderry and rammed into a concrete wall. The locomotive tore five feet into the concrete barrier while the freight cars telescoped and piled up behind it.

The outlawed Irish Republican Army has been conducting a campaign to make the six counties of Northern Ireland part of the independent Southern Irish Republic.

Heart Fund Campaign Well over Goal Here

The Heart Fund campaign in Fayette County has surpassed its goal—and is still going.

Miss Marian Moore, the campaign chairman, said Friday that collections of $3,995 have been reported, with three townships yet to be heard from and only partial returns in from two others.

A number of the envelopes left at homes where no one answered the door on Heart Sunday have not yet been received and the money in the plastic hearts in places of business has not been counted.

The goal this year was $3,850, or 23 1/2 per cent increase over last year.

Miss Moore said no reports had been received up to Friday from Wayne, Perry and Green townships and only partial reports were in from Concord and Paint townships.

THE $3,995, Miss Moore said, includes contributions amounting to $1,767 from Washington C. H. and $1,028 from the rest of the county

(including the four villages), $140 from the benefit card party sponsored by the Newcomers Club, $115 from the benefit movie at the Fayette Theater sponsored by the three WHS Y-Teen clubs, memorial gifts of $202, donations of $658 from business, and $195 from not-at-home envelopes.

Miss Moore said contributions in the rural areas showed a "good increase" over those in the past.

The major solicitation of the campaign was on Heart Sunday, Feb. 24. The canvass was virtually completed in Washington C. H. and the villages on that day, but because homes are farther apart in the rural area more time was allowed for this phase of the campaign.

Miss Moore said the committee hopes to have the campaign completed not later than the end of this week.

TV Producer Is Busy Man With Naval Academy Show

NEW YORK (AP) — It's not a leisurely life when you're producing five television film programs a month in a variety of places. Ask William Castle, producer-director of "Annapolis," the series about life at the Naval Academy. He describes a typical week thus:

First day—Gather half the cast and camera crew in New York and fly in the other half from Hollywood and dash to Annapolis to shoot some sequences.

Second day—Go to the Navy's dairy farm in rural Maryland to shoot scenes of a shipman having a fight with a bull and then go on to Baltimore for further scenes.

Third day — Fly to Hollywood. Fourth and fifth days—Board a destroyer at San Diego and go to sea for shipboard scenes.

Sixth day — Go to Coronado, Calif., to shoot underwater demolition scenes.

Seventh day — "I finally got home for a little while," said Castle, "and saw my wife. She was getting sore at me because we never seem to see each other any more."

Although Castle's wife may be temporarily irked at him, the Navy isn't. Neither are numerous viewers who enjoy the Ziv-produced series on nearly 100 TV stations around the country.

A board of officers at the academy and a review board in the Navy Department cull and closely scrutinize the series for accuracy. So careful of detail are they, said Castle, that one set had to be pulled down because the grain of the floor was not exactly right.

The Navy's determination for authenticity of fact and detail plus Castle's determine to present interesting dramas produces absorbing television entertainment.

146 Ohio High School Teams Still Surviving

Defending Champions
Middletown, Arcanum
Winning in Tourneys

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's huge field of 1,045 high school basketball teams was whittled down to 146 today as the survivors wheeled into district championship play.

Of the 696 Class A starters, only 63 were left as the result of the "lose and out" county and sectional tournaments. In Class AA only 83 of 349 remained.

But both defending champions, Middletown in Class AA and Arcanum in Class A, were still on deck. The Middies equalled the state's "long run" record Saturday night by defeating Cincinnati Central 105-55 at Dayton to match the 46-game victory string which Dayton Stivers put together in 1929-31.

Arcanum was a 64-45 victor over Clark County Northwestern at Springfield, but the state's two top-ranked Class A squads fell by the wayside. Troy-Luckey, pacesetter in The Associated Press poll most of the season, was sidelined 53-52 by Rossford at Clyde, and second-place Lowellville was dumped 61-56 by Warren St. Mary at Youngstown. Third place Vienna walloped Champion 61-37 to stay alive.

Stuebenville, third in the Class AA ratings, saw its 20-game winning streak shattered 74-72 by East Liverpool in the sectional finals on the victors' court, ending the Big Red's title dreams.

With the sectionals out of the way the 63 Class A teams move into district play this week at Westerville, Dover, Marietta, Canton, Delphos, Defiance, Tiffin, Mansfield, Athens, Portsmouth, Dayton, Cincinnati and Springfield.

The Class AA district meets are at Columbus, New Concord, Berea, Cleveland, Akron, Kent, Canton, Youngstown, Lima, Marion, Toledo, Athens, Cincinnati, Dayton and Troy.

By Saturday night only 16 teams will be left in each class, and they will move on to regional tournaments ending March 16. Regionals, with four teams in each, are at Canton, Lima, Troy and Athens in Class A, and Berea, Toledo, Kent and Cincinnati in Class AA. One team will move from each regional tournament to the state finals at Ohio State's new arena, March 22-23.

Future play pairings, announced Sunday, are (all games to be played Friday unless otherwise noted):

Gym Class Injury Fatal to Youth

CLEVELAND (AP) — James P. Jarzyn, 18, a student at Garfield Heights High, died Sunday of injuries received when he fell while swinging on a 6-foot high bar at the school Friday.

A gym instructor was observing Jarzyn's performance when the youth lost his grip, apparently suffering neck and spine injuries in the tumble.

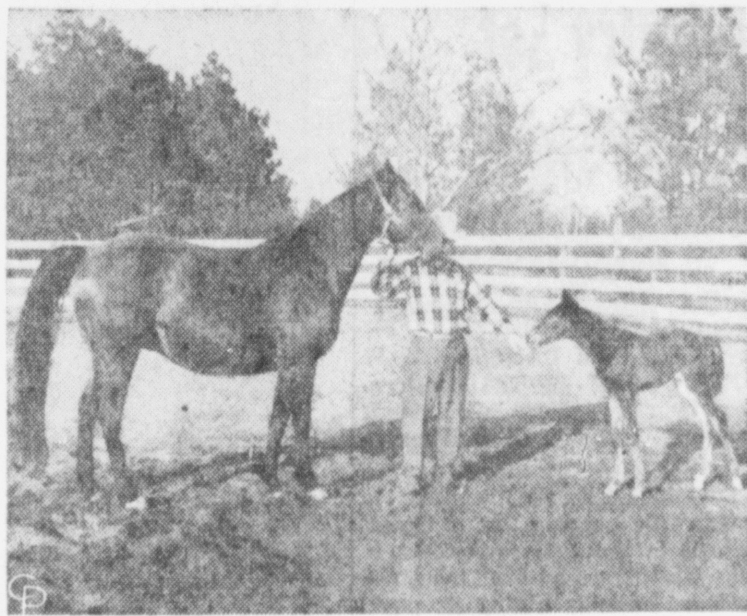

NEW YORK (AP) — Grady Wallace, South Carolina's top offensive weapon, today led the nation's big college basketball scorers with an average of 31 points per game.

Wallace scored 44 points against Clemson Saturday night and now has 806 points in 26 games.

Joe Gibbon of Mississippi is in second place with a 30.05 average, and Seattle's Elgin Baylor is in third place with a 30.00 average.

Pimlico race track led all Maryland tracks, in attendance during 1956.

Only Two SCO Quintets Still in Tourney Play

Only two of the five South Central Ohio League teams are still in basketball tournaments today. And, from the look of things, there'll be only one tomorrow morning.

Circleville, one of the two hold-outs, takes on Columbus East Monday night at Granville. Despite the classy play of the Circleville lads, the polished Columbus East club is expected to win an easy victory.

And that would leave only Hillsboro, fighting its way through the ranks of the Southeastern District AA tourney at Portsmouth.

Washington C. H. was the latest tournament casualty, bowing to Worthington's tall and classy ball club, 74-55, Saturday night in Columbus.

Prior to that, both Wilmington and Greenfield had been eliminated from tournament play, Wilmington,

Heavyweight Recovering After Bout

PORTSLAND, Ore. (AP) — A 266-pound heavyweight who narrowly missed death in a fight with a 335-pound South African was reported recovering in a hospital today.

Doctors said a 2½-hour operation saved the life of Bruce Olson, the 6-foot, 4-inch Kent, Wash., fighter who suffered a brain hemorrhage in his bout with 7-foot, 2-inch Ewart Potgieter.

Olson was knocked out in the sixth round of a scheduled 10-round bout Saturday night. Helped to his feet after the count, he took a few wild swings, sank onto his stool in the corner and collapsed.

At a hospital seven tiny holes were drilled in his skull before a blood clot was found, said Dr. Clinton McGill, Oregon Boxing Commission physician, who assisted a team of neurosurgeons in the operation.

McGill said it would be several days before they could tell whether recovery would be complete.

Olson will never fight again anyway, said his manager, Maxie Weisbarth of Seattle.

Turner Is Favored To Defeat Gwin

NEW YORK (AP) — Veteran Gil Turner is a 2-1 choice to spoil Rudy Gwin's bigtime debut in St. Nicholas Arena tonight.

The 26-year-old Philadelphia, who has fought most of the top welterweights and middleweights, figures to have too much experience for the 24-year-old Cleveland welterweight in the 10-rounder.

Turner, back in the welterweight 147 pounds division, has a 51-14-1 record, including 34 KOs. Gwin, a former amateur and all-Navy champion, has a 7-2-2 record with only one KO.

Delaware Oval's Speed Rating Cut

COLUMBUS (AP) — The U. S. Trotting Assn. has designated the Delaware County fairgrounds track and Roosevelt Raceway at Westbury, N. Y., as the country's fastest half-mile tracks with a 2:04.3 rating, the former moving up from 2:04.4 and the latter from 2:05.

Saratoga Raceway at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., was moved from 2:05 to 2:04.4 to become the third fastest.

The "Red Mile" at Lexington, Ky., pegged at 2:02, was rated the fastest mile track in the country.

Rookies Help Celtics Clinch Division Title

BOSTON (AP) — Rookie Bill Russell and Tom Heinsohn have helped the firehouse Boston Celtics achieve a goal the veterans couldn't reach alone — their first Eastern Division championship in the 11-year-old National Basketball Assn.

In recent years, the Celtics have been the high-scoring, fast-breaking sensations of the league but their backcourt play could not carry them to the top.

It was Russell, the agile 6-10 Olympic star, who applied the clincher Sunday when Boston defeated Rochester 111-102 for the division crown to supplant defending World Champion Philadelphia. Russell scored 30 points and 24 rebounds.

After its five remaining regular-season contests, the Celtics will sit back and watch Philadelphia and Syracuse fight it out for the right to challenge them in the semifinal round of the NBA playoffs beginning March 23.

Heinsohn, former Holy Cross ace, turned out to be another fine rebounder and came up with one of the hottest shooting hands on the club.

Meanwhile, the Western Division, St. Louis kept alive its title hopes by defeating sectional leader Ft. Wayne 112-102 while Minneapolis downed New York 119-108 and Syracuse belted Philadelphia 112-86.

Skating Champions Collect Laurels

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) No upsets and few spills sent the 1957 world figure skating championships into history today with titles to the United States, Canada and England.

As expected, Carol Heiss of Czone Park, N. Y., retained her women's crown. David Jenkins of Colorado Springs topped the men while the pairs title went to Barbara Wagner and Robert Paul of Canada and London's June Markham and Courtney Jones gracefully slid away with the ice dancing championship.

9 Ohio Collegiate Outfits Still Face Tourney Tests

COLUMBUS (AP) — Conference titles are all decided and only six games remain on the regular slate, but Ohio's collegiate hotshots (nine of them) still are facing tournament tests.

The end of the long grind found Capital (14-3) replacing Akron as Ohio Conference king, the Zippers winning a year ago with 9-1.

Miami, with 11-1, took over the Mid-American crown, won a year ago by Marshall with 10-2; Defiance grabbed the Mid-Ohio with the same 11-1 mark boasted in 1956, Findlay spilling the Jackets' perfect mark in Saturday's finale by 95-85.

Wayne of Detroit, with an 83-69 win over John Carroll, took the Presidents' Conference title for the second straight time. Wayne's record was 5-1, against last year's 6-0.

One oddity in that four-team circuit was that last-place Case (1-5), defeated third place Western Reserve (2-4). Reserve defeated second place John Carroll (4-2), and Carroll defeated first place Wayne in the home-and-home series. Thus case, on the bottom, was able to boast that "We beat the team which beat the team which beat the team which won the title."

Defiance's loss to Findlay—its lone setback by an Ohio foe — pulled the Yellow Jackets back into a tie at 19-3 with Youngstown's Penguins for the statewide lead. Wilmington was third with 13-4.

The three leaders and Steubenville clash at Youngstown tonight and Tuesday in the opening round qualifier for the NAIA tournament which concludes March 1-16 in Kansas City. The slate: Youngstown vs Defiance; Wilmington vs Steubenville.

Xavier, Cincinnati and Dayton, the state's three big independents, go into the NIT at Madison Square Garden March 16-23, and Miami's Mid-American stalwarts meet Notre Dame, Morehead and another independent in the Ohio State Field House March 12 to select two NCAA district qualifiers. The NCAA finals are March 21-22 at Kansas City.

Capital goes against Buffalo on the foreign court Tuesday night in the opening round of the NCAA small college tourney which has its finals March 13-15 at Evansville, Ind.

The Ohioans muffed a chance to better their 1956 intrastate record last week as they won only 7 of 18 games. That left them tied at 158 victories with last year's mark, but they lost 123 this year against 119 to the outsiders a year ago.

Host teams won 349 this season against 369 in 1956, while visiting quintets which won 167 a year ago boosted the figure to 176.

Youngstown, which has no home floor — it rents the South High gym for its home tilts—made the big jump this season. A year ago the Penguins had a 12-14 record for 23rd place among the 40 Ohio colleges, but this time they rode to the top with 9-3.

Ashland's Eagles went the other way. In 1956 they were eighth with 13-5. This year they were last with 2-16.

Harrell Sparkles In Indian Tests

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Billy Harrell, 28-year-old rookie, is making a strong bid for the third-base position vacated when Al Rosen announced he would not be back in a Cleveland Indians uniform this year.

Harrell hit five for seven in two weekend intrasquad games at the Indians' training camp here. He hit two sharp singles in four appearances Sunday, knocking in the only run for the Red Kresses as the Eddie Stankvs beat the Kresses 2-1.

Coming here from Puerto Rico, where he played winter baseball, Harrell handled several tough inces with ease at third base.

146 Ohio High School Teams Still Surviving

Defending Champions
Middletown, Arcanum
Winning in Tourneys

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's huge field of 1,045 high school basketball teams was whittled down to 146 today as the survivors wheeled into district championship play.

Of the 696 Class A starters, only 63 were left as the result of the "lose and out" county and sectional tournaments. In Class AA only 83 of 349 remained.

But both defending champions, Middletown in Class AA and Arcanum in Class A, were still on deck. The Middies equalled the state's "long run" record Saturday night by defeating Cincinnati Central 105-55 at Dayton to match the 46-game victory string which Dayton Stivers put together in 1929-31.

Arcanum was a 64-45 victor over Clark County Northwestern at Springfield, but the state's two top-ranked Class A squads fell by the wayside. Troy-Luckey, pacesetter in The Associated Press poll most of the season, was sidelined 53-52 by Rossford at Clyde, and second-place Lowellville was dumped 61-56 by Warren St. Mary at Youngstown. Third-place Vienna walloped Champion 61-37 to stay alive.

Steubenville, third in the Class AA ratings, saw its 20-game winning streak shattered 74-72 by East Liverpool in the sectional finals on the victors' court, ending the Big Red's title dreams.

With the sectionals out of the way the 63 Class A teams move into district play this week at Westerville, Dover, Marietta, Canton, Delphos, Defiance, Tiffin, Mansfield, Athens, Portsmouth, Dayton, Cincinnati and Springfield.

The Class AA district meet are at Columbus, New Concord, Berea, Cleveland, Akron Kent, Canton, Youngstown, Lima, Marion, Toledo, Athens, Cincinnati, Dayton and Troy.

By Saturday night only 16 teams will be left in each class, and they will move on to regional tournaments ending March 16. Regionals, with four teams in each, are at Canton, Lima, Troy and Athens in Class A, and Berea, Toledo, Kent and Cincinnati in Class AA. One team will move from each regional tournament to the state finals at Ohio State's new arena, March 22-23.

Future play pairings, announced Sunday, are (all games to be played Friday unless otherwise noted):

Gym Class Injury Fatal to Youth

CLEVELAND (AP) — James P. Jarzyn, 18, a student at Garfield Heights High, died Sunday of injuries received when he fell while swinging on a 6-foot high bar at the school Friday.

A gym instructor was observing Jarzyn's performance when the youth lost his grip, apparently suffering neck and spine injuries in the tumble.

Only Two SCO Quintets Still in Tourney Play

Only two of the five South Central Ohio League teams are still in basketball tournaments today. And, from the look of things, there'll be only one tomorrow morning.

Circleville, one of the two hold-outs, takes on Columbus East Monday night at Granville. Despite the classy play of the Circleville lads, the polished Columbus East club is expected to win an easy victory.

And that would leave only Hillsboro, fighting its way through the ranks of the Southeastern District AA tourney at Portsmouth.

Washington C. H. was the latest tournament casualty, bowing to Worthington's tall and classy ball club, 74-55, Saturday night in Columbus.

Prior to that, both Wilmington and Greenfield had been eliminated from tournament play. Wilmington,

Heavyweight Recovering After Bout

PORTSLAND, Ore. (AP) — A 266-pound heavyweight who narrowly missed death in a fight with a 335-pound South African was reported recovering in a hospital today.

Doctors said a 2½-hour operation saved the life of Bruce Olson, the 6-foot, 4-inch Kent, Wash., fighter who suffered a brain hemorrhage in his bout with 7-foot, 2-inch Ewart Potgieter.

Olson was knocked out in the sixth round of a scheduled 10-round bout Saturday night. Helped to his feet after the count, he took a few wild swings, sank onto his stool in the corner and collapsed.

At a hospital seven tiny holes were drilled in his skull before a blood clot was found, said Dr. Clinton McGill, Oregon Boxing Commission physician, who assisted a team of neuro-surgeons in the operation.

McGill said it would be several days before they could tell whether recovery would be complete.

Olson will never fight again anyway, said his manager, Maxie Weisbarth of Seattle.

Turner Is Favored To Defeat Gwin

NEW YORK (AP) — Veteran Gil Turner is a 2-1 choice to spoil Rudy Gwin's bigtime debut in St. Nicholas Arena tonight.

The 26-year-old Philadelphian, who has fought most of the top welterweights and middleweights, figures to have too much experience for the 24-year-old Cleveland welterweight in the 10-rounder.

Turner, back in the welterweight 147 pounds division, has a 51-14-1 record, including 34 KOs. Gwin, a former amateur and all-Navy champion, has a 7-2-2 record with only one KO.

Delaware Oval's Speed Rating Cut

COLUMBUS (AP)—The U. S. Trotting Assn. has designated the Delaware County fairgrounds track and Roosevelt Raceway at Westbury, N. Y., as the country's fastest half-mile tracks with a 2:04.3 rating, the former moving up from 2:04.4 and the latter from 2:05. Saratoga Raceway at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., was moved from 2:05 to 2:04.4 to become the third fastest.

The "Red Mile" at Lexington, Ky., pegged at 2:02, was rated the fastest mile track in the country.

Wallace Sets Pace In College Scoring

NEW YORK (AP)—Grady Wallace, South Carolina's top offensive weapon, today led the nation's big-college basketball scorers with an average of 31 points per game.

Wallace scored 44 points against Clemson Saturday night and now has 806 points in 26 games.

Joe Gibbon of Mississippi is in second place with a 30.05 average, and Seattle's Elgin Baylor is in third place with a 30.00 average.

Pimlico race track led all Maryland tracks, in attendance during 1956.

1,408 Days Of Harness Racing Booked

COLUMBUS—The 1957 harness racing schedule for extended pari-mutuel tracks has been announced by the U. S. Trotting Association. Thirty-one racing associations will sponsor meetings at 29 tracks in 11 states.

The racing season actually opened Dec. 27 at Bay Meadows, San Mateo, Cal. Two March openings are scheduled with Santa Anita going for 21 days beginning March 14 and Maywood (Ill.) Park opening March 29 for 56 days. The New York season opens at Yonkers Raceway April 1.

The schedule, a composite 1,408 days of harness racing, is as follows:

March 14-April 10, Arcadia, Calif. March 29-June 1, Maywood, Ill. April 1-July 31, Yonkers, N. Y. April 18-June 1, Northville, Mich. May 6-June 1, Oxon Hill, Md. May 8-July 27, Hamburg, N. Y. June 6-Aug. 24, Saratoga Springs June 11-July 27, Hilliards, Ohio June 15-Aug. 31, Vernon, N. Y. June 17-Aug. 29, Foxboro, Mass. June 24-July 20, Gorham, Me. July 1-July 27, Baltimore, Md. July 1-Aug. 20, Solon, Ohio July 8-Aug. 31, Cicero, Ill. July 15-Aug. 31, Florence, Ky. July 22-Aug. 17, Cincinnati, Mich. July 29-Aug. 24, Berlin, Md. July 29-Nov. 2, Batavia, N. Y. July 29-Sept. 14, Wilmington, Del. Aug. 1-Nov. 30, Westbury, N. Y. Aug. 8-Oct. 12, Freehold, N. J. Aug. 19-Oct. 5, Falmouth, Mich. Sept. 2-Oct. 19, Maywood, Ill. Sept. 5-Oct. 12, Saratoga Springs Sept. 9-Sept. 28, Vernon, N. Y. Spt. 14-Oct. 5, Lebanon, Ohio Sept. 16-Oct. 8, Harrington, Del. Oct. 3-Nov. 16, Newlewood, Calif.

One oddity in that four-team circuit was that last-place Case (1-5), defeated third place Western Reserve (2-4), Reserve defeated second place John Carroll (4-2), and Carroll defeated first place Wayne in the home-and-home series. Thus case, on the bottom, was able to boast that "We beat the team which beat the team which beat the team which won the title."

Defiance's loss to Findlay—its lone setback by an Ohio foe — pulled the Yellow Jackets back into a tie at 19-3 with Youngstown's Penguins for the statewide lead. Wilmington was third with 15-4.

The three leaders and Steubenville clash at Youngstown tonight and Tuesday in the opening round qualifier for the NAIA tournament which concludes March 1-16 in Kansas City. The slate: Youngstown vs Defiance; Wilmington vs Steubenville.

Xavier, Cincinnati and Dayton, the state's three big independents, go into the NIT at Madison Square Garden March 16-23, and Miami's Mid-American stalwarts meet Notre Dame, Morehead and another independent in the Ohio State Field House March 12 to select

BOSTON (AP) — Rookie Bill Russell and Tom Heinsohn have helped the firehouse Boston Celtics achieve a goal the veterans couldn't reach alone — their first Eastern Division championship in the 11-year-old National Basketball Assn.

In recent years, the Celtics have been the high-scoring, fast-breaking sensations of the league but their backcourt play could not carry them to the top.

It was Russell, the agile 6-10 Olympic star, who applied the clincher Sunday when Boston defeated Rochester 111-102 for the division crown to supplant defending World Champion Philadelphia. Russell scored 30 points and 24 rebounds.

After its five remaining regular-season contests, the Celtics will sit back and watch Philadelphia and Syracuse fight it out for the right to challenge them in the semifinal round of the NBA playoffs beginning March 23.

Heinsohn, former Holy Cross ace, turned out to be another fine rebounder and came up with one of the hottest shooting hands on the club.

Meanwhile, the Western Division, St. Louis kept alive its title hopes by defeating sectional leader Ft. Wayne 112-102 while Minneapolis downed New York 119-108 and Syracuse belted Philadelphia 112-86.

Skating Champions Collect Laurels

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) No upsets and few spills sent the 1957 world figure skating championships into history today with titles to the United States, Canada and England.

As expected, Carol Heiss of Czone Park, N. Y., retained her women's crown. David Jenkins of Colorado Springs topped the men while the pairs title went to Barbara Wagner and Robert Paul of Canada and London's June Markham and Courtney Jones gracefully slid away with the ice dancing championship.

9 Ohio Collegiate Outfits Still Face Tourney Tests

COLUMBUS (AP)—Conference titles are all decided and only six games remain on the regular slate, but Ohio's collegiate hotshots (nine of them) still are facing tournament tests.

The end of the long grind found Capital (14-3) replacing Akron as Ohio Conference king, the Zippers winning a year ago with 9-1.

Miami, with 11-1, took over the Mid-American crown, won a year ago by Marshall with 10-2; Defiance grabbed the Mid-Ohio with the same 11-1 mark boasted in 1956, Findlay spoiling the Jackets' perfect mark in Saturday's finale by 95-85.

Wayne of Detroit, with an 83-69 win over John Carroll, took the Presidents' Conference title for the second straight time. Wayne's record was 5-1, against last year's 6-0.

One oddity in that four-team circuit was that last-place Case (1-5), defeated third place Western Reserve (2-4), Reserve defeated second place John Carroll (4-2), and Carroll defeated first place Wayne in the home-and-home series. Michigan State May Cop Big Ten Cage Title Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Spartans of Michigan State hope to cap one of the greatest comebacks in Big Ten basketball history with a victory over arch-rival Michigan and an undisputed championship.

Michigan State whipped Indiana 76-61, Saturday night to take over first place in the Western Conference. These same Spartans lost their first three Big Ten games and it wasn't until 35 days ago that they scored their first conference triumph.

Since then Michigan State has won 10 straight and will represent the Big Ten in the NCAA championships even if Indiana and Ohio State gain a share of the title.

Should Indiana and Ohio State both win tonight and Michigan State loses, all three would finish with 10-4 records. Michigan State, however, gets the NCAA bid because Ohio State is on probation and Indiana in 1954 was the last of these three teams to play in the post-season tournament.

While Michigan State battles at Michigan, Indiana will be home against Illinois and Ohio State invades Minnesota. Other games find Northwestern at Wisconsin and Iowa at Purdue.

Ohio State kept alive its hopes for a title share by defeating Northwestern, 84 - 70, Saturday. Other results were Minnesota 86, Illinois 75; Purdue 85, Wisconsin 66; and Michigan 83, Iowa 79.

The question tonight is can Michigan State defeat Michigan at Ann Arbor. It's been done this season when unpredictable Minnesota flattened the Wolverines 82-62.

Michigan, however, is partly the cause of Indiana's woes. The Wolverines last Monday snapped Indiana's six-game winning streak with an 87-86 victory at Ann Arbor. Then, too, the Wolverines have hopes of finishing in the first division. They are currently tied with Illinois and Purdue for fifth place and have a chance of gaining a fourth place tie.

Michigan State also has an incentive. The Spartans have not won a title since joining the Big Ten basketball wars in 1951. And Michigan State would like to avenge a 70-69 loss to Michigan at East Lansing earlier in the season.

Jim Demaret Pockets Top Tourney Cash

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Debonair Jimmy Demaret, long known as a snappy dresser, has a new golf style, but the same winning habit.

The 45-year-old Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., veteran conquered miserable weather and the driving finish of Australian Peter Thomson Sunday to walk off with the $2,000 first prize in the $15,000 Baton Rouge Open.

Demaret shot a 1 under-par 71 for a 278 total after 72 holes. Thomson had 70 and 279 to take the $1,500 second money.

His steady sub-par play has placed him high among money winners in the last three PGA tournaments. He is fifth among money winners for 1957 with $3,364 in PGA events.

Three strokes back of Thomson were Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill., and Gardner Dickinson, Panama City, Fla., with 282.

Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio, carded a 287 for $450.

40-Year-Old Antarctic Food Slated for Scientific Tests

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Canned goods preserved for more than 40 years in the natural deep freeze of Antarctica will be used in a government study of radioactivity in foods, it was announced Saturday.

The goods will be obtained from a camp site occupied by the British Antarctic Expedition of 1908-9 under Sir Ernest Shackleton, and a camp established by Capt. Robert Falcon Scott, British Navy, during his last antarctic expedition from 1910 to 1912. Scott perished on the expedition.

The Food and Drug Administration is launching a study of food radioactivity, with an eye to spotting any possible future hazards from atomic bomb blasts. To do this, it is necessary to check on the natural radioactivity in food, and hence it is collecting samples dating back before the atomic era.

Officials emphasized there is "no significant radioactivity in the U. S. food supply today."

Samples of powdered milk have already been obtained from Little America Camp No. 3, established by Adm. Richard E. Byrd in 1940.

"Antique" food collected in the United States also will be used in the survey. The Associated Press recently carried a story that food and drug scientists wanted authentic specimens of food canned prior to 1945—"Year One" of the atomic era — and the scientists were swamped with offers.

The proffered food ranged from items said to have been preserved in the Civil War period to a can of fruit juice carried on a bombing raid during World War II.

Schoolteacher Tax Break Is Sought

WASHINGTON—Congress is being asked to give the million schoolteachers in this country a better break on their income tax.

Some congressmen, like Rep. Jenkins (R-Ohio) of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, show sympathy.

Teachers want to deduct expenses of going to summer school to improve their professional ability. Jenkins has introduced a bill to permit it.

An indignant Chicago teacher, Mrs. Adah Mauer, wrote that "Teachers are bitter over businessmen being able to entertain customers in the Stork Club and deduct the fun."

Lions Eliminated

throws to take second place in the WHS scoring with 18 points.

The Worthington offense was spread over the entire team with eight having a hand in the scoring.

The Worthington boys made good 50 per cent of their shots from the field—hitting 25 of 50 tosses. It was their accuracy that really sewed up the victory and gave them the right to stay in the tournament to meet Columbus North Tuesday night.

The Worthington team used a zone defense all the way. The Lions were able to penetrate it—but to no avail because they could not hit the basket.

The Lions started the game with a 3-2 zone defense and it was fairly effective in cutting down the number of Worthington shots, but not the accuracy. In the second half, they shifted to a pressing man-to-man defense, frequently applying it on the back court. The change in tactics worked equally well, but did not hamper the Worthington accuracy much.
